

Angry drivers confront ired dealers Showdown at the gas pump

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Angry Northern California motorists, annoyed about messing up weekend travel plans, jammed open gas stations Friday as a shutdown by equally angry dealers protesting gas price restrictions gained momentum.

Dealers throughout the nation either shut down or vowed through their organizations to take aggressive action over the weekend against the restrictions.

"It's getting more widespread by the minute," chortled a jubilant Bob Moore, spokesman for the California Service Station Dealers Association which called the four-day protest.

From the Tehachapi mountains 200 miles south of San Francisco to the redwoods and fishing communities 200 miles to the north, gasoline was on the mind of every motorist.

Some drivers reported searching for hours and driving miles out of their way to fill up. Long lines were reported at all open stations and police in San Francisco and Oakland had to be called several times to unspool congestion and calm horn-honking motorists.

In Palo Alto, Mrs. Mary Ann Erickson made an appointment with her gas dealer for a tank of fuel.

Moore had estimated that at least half of the 5,000 dealer-operated stations in Northern California would shut down to protest Phase 4 price controls on gasoline.

Spot checks throughout the area indicated the dealers had hit their mark — and even bettered it in some places.

Ray Ashwell, executive director of the 500-member California Gasoline Retailers Association, based primarily in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Valley, estimated 90 per cent of his membership will close.

Informal surveys indicated about 50 per cent of San Francisco's stations closed — with much higher percentages in the surrounding suburbs.

On the north coast, a survey found between 75 per cent and 90 per cent of the stations shut in the Eureka area. And in the northern redwood country around Redding, a spot check found 60 per cent of the gas stations shutting down.

Operators of many stations that remained open said they expected to run out of gas because of the influx of customers.

Moore noted that stations are allotted a certain amount of gasoline per month — and if companies give them more than the allotment "they're subject to lawsuits and fines."

Some motorists, worried about gasoline on the road, canceled weekend travel plans.

"The dealers are just angry. They're not trying to take it out on the motoring public, but how would you like to have your salary cut 20 per cent?" Moore said.

Under Phase 4, many dealers have been compelled to trim pump prices from one to three cents and at the same time absorb up to a penny wholesale increases imposed in the last two weeks by nearly all major oil companies.

John T. Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council assured dealers Thursday that they would be allowed to increase pump prices soon-but the California dealers decided to shut down anyway.

"We don't want to ruin anybody's weekend," Moore said. "But people are just going to have to take a driving holiday and stay home. Besides, we just might have clean air for a couple of days."

Fiery casket, body found

JOSHUA TREE NATIONAL MONUMENT (UPI) — A partially burned embalmed body was found in a flaming casket in a Joshua Tree National Monument Friday. Sheriff's deputies said it probably was that of rock singer and composer Gram Parsons who died two days earlier.

Police at Los Angeles International Airport said Parsons' body was stolen Thursday night while it was awaiting shipment east for burial.

Officers here were searching for an old black hearse that campers said was weaving on Monument roads early Friday morning and ran several cars off the road. They also were looking for a tan foreign van seen in the vicinity of the burning casket.

The singer-composer, who formerly played with "The Byrds" group during the 1960s died Wednesday in a motel in the small town of Joshua Tree on the outskirts of the desert national monument. He was 27.

Campers in the Cap Rock campground of the Monument reported the flaming casket to Monument rangers Friday morning.

The casket was destroyed by the fire and the body, which was inside the casket, was partially burned.

Record L.A. traffic jam

Associated Press

Tens of thousands of commuters were stuck Friday night in a massive traffic jam after a tanker truck burst into flames on the Ventura Freeway.

No one was injured in the fire. The driver, Duane Schumm, 45, ran to safety after the initial explosion, authorities said.

"I got the hell out of there and got as far away as fast as I could," Schumm said later.

The accident occurred at 1 p.m. and the major freeway was still closed in both directions five hours later during the peak rush-hour period.

In domino fashion, connecting freeways and surface streets throughout the Los Angeles area rolled to a bumper-to-bumper halt.

One local transportation department official called it "the worst, or equal to the worst, traffic jam in the history of Los Angeles."

"It looked like the biggest parking lot I've ever seen," said one motorist.

Investigators said the trailer section apparently hit a guard rail, then overturned and was dragged several hundred feet before exploding.

The California Highway Patrol set up emergency command posts, and more than 100 officers worked to get traffic moving again.

The blast rattled windows a mile from the accident and officials estimated more than 9,000 gallons of gasoline went up in flames.

Resignation deal hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's lawyers and Justice Department officials have been negotiating about the possibility of Agnew resigning and pleading guilty to a "relatively minor offense," the Washington Post reported in today's editions.

Neither the White House, the vice president's office nor Deputy Atty. Gen. William French Smith would comment on the report, which quoted informed sources. The Post said it was unable to learn whether the Justice Department or the defense team suggested the alleged arrangement.

Agnew was notified last month that he was under criminal investigation in Nixon, Agnew talk again, but only silence ensues. Page A-1.

Baltimore concerning alleged kickbacks from engineering and architectural firms while he was governor of Maryland.

Agnew met with President Nixon Thursday and the Post quoted a White House aide as saying the vice president left in a "very discouraged mood."

Two adrift 10 weeks rescued

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two men adrift aboard an overturned trimaran for 10 weeks in the Pacific were rescued Friday night by a British freighter, the Coast Guard reported.

Officers said James Fisher, Auburn, Wash., and Robert Timinenko, Longview, Wash., were "in very weak condition but mobile." They were picked up by the SS Benalder 900 miles southwest of here.

Timinenko told his rescuers that his wife, Linda, died on Aug. 11. The Benalder radioed that her body was not aboard the Triton.

Fisher and Timinenko were hanging on the overturned Triton, the Coast Guard said.

The trimaran left Washington early in July on a voyage to Marina del Rey. The Triton radioed the Coast Guard on July 11 that it had capsized.

Price rise steepest in 26 years

Food budget short? Here's why!

Combined News Service

Government reports Friday showed that food prices spiraled 4.3 per cent last month, a 17.1 per cent rise since August of 1972, the sharpest jump in annual food prices in Long Beach-Los Angeles in 26 years.

The reports also showed the overall cost of living in the Long Beach area up another 1.4 per cent in August which is the biggest single rise in nearly three years.

Nationally, inflation took its biggest bite in nearly a generation as consumer prices, led by the biggest one-month jump in food costs since 1946, rose 1.8 per cent.

The latest rise in the cost of living came after the administration lifted its across-the-board price freeze pushing consumer prices in Los Angeles and Orange counties 6.6 per cent above a year ago, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Soaring grocery prices and higher interest rates were a major factor in the August increase, said Suzanne Sadowsky, chief of the BLS Southern California office.

A White House economic adviser said the sharp increase in food prices was "in part an overreaction to pressures built up during the freeze," and predicted they would begin dropping this fall.

President Nixon said through a spokesman "he expects the steps we are taking to combat inflation ... will bring about a decrease in the rise of inflation and solve this problem and bring the cost of living index down to a reasonable level."

But AFL-CIO President George Meany, noting the August rise in the Consumer Price Index was the sharpest in 26 years, called the figures "complete proof of the utter incompetence of this administration."

The sharp price increases reflected in the Labor Department report had been anticipated following the huge jump in wholesale prices last month. The price explosion coincided with the government's lifting of the freeze on most food prices on July 18 and for almost everything else in mid-August.

Food prices, including restaurant meals, advanced 6 per cent last month on an unadjusted basis and 6.1 per cent after adjustment for normal seasonal changes.

Last month's 6 per cent jump was the steepest since the record 13.8 per cent increase in July, 1946, during the post-World War II inflation. Seasonally adjusted, the increase was the largest since the government began keeping seasonal figures in 1947.

Grocery prices rose even higher, climbing 7.4 per cent unadjusted and 7.7 per cent adjusted, more than in any month since the government started maintaining separate figures on food store prices after World War II.

The index for nonfood commodities, which usually declines in August, rose two-tenths of one per cent, reflecting higher prices for clothing, houses, maintenance and fuel oil.

$1.2 million paid in car death suit

United Press International

A family of four that was injured when a tank of compressed gas exploded in an antique car has settled a personal injury suit for $1.2 million.

The owners of the 1917 Stanley Steamer, Wayne Nutting and his wife, Elizabeth, were killed in the blast April 26, 1969, during a parade of old cars at an amusement park.

Riding in the car and injured when the tank of propane gas blew up were William Schutz, his wife, Joann, and daughters Christina, 8, and Cynthia, 11.

Under the out-of-court settlement approved Thursday by Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Joseph Wapner, five defendants will contribute to the award.

Nixon may cancel European summit tour

Combined News Services

Uncertainty now clouds President Nixon's plans to tour Europe this fall, ranking White House officials acknowledged Friday.

The officials insisted no decision has been made ruling out the trip and denied broadcast reports it had been canceled, but did say "the situation ... is uncertain."

As recently as last month, presidential advisers were saying flatly that the trip would come in November. But two new factors are now cited as injecting fresh uncertainty:

—Whether work can be completed this year on a new allied declaration of principles which Nixon wants to sign while in Europe, and —Nixon's determination to stick close to the White House and concentrate on such domestic problems as rising inflation and energy shortages.

Months ago Nixon and his chief foreign policy adviser, Henry Kissinger, proclaimed 1973 as the "Year of Europe" and began making plans for a journey to five or more European capitals.

Some European leaders displayed coolness to the idea, but Common Market foreign ministers drafted a proposed declaration of principles for the allied community.

Outlawed

Acting at the request of the Federal Communications Commission, a federal judge in Camden, N.J., signed an order Friday forbidding broadcasts by Dr. Carl McIntire's gospel radio station from international waters off the New Jersey shore.

After a session in his chambers with FCC attorneys, U.S. District Court Judge Mitchell Cohen signed an order halting broadcasts from a 28-year-old converted minesweeper the fundamentalist preacher has anchored 12 miles off Cape May, at the southern tip of New Jersey, equidistant from New York City and Washington, D.C.

McIntire, 67, voluntarily shut down his transmitter Thursday after one day of broadcasting because Lakewood, N.J., radio station WHLW complained of interference.

McIntire arranged the offshore broadcasts after the FCC revoked the license for WKUR, his station in Media, Pa., due to allegations that WKUR's programs violated the fairness doctrine of broadcasting.

Croce 'tired of flying'

Jim Croce liked Southern audiences, good cigars and singing. But he told a college concert audience an hour before he died in a plane crash that he was tired of flying.

"I've flown about 700,000 or 800,000 miles just this past year," Croce, 30, said. "I'm starting to feel it now, too. You know, jet lag."

He died with five other persons in the crash of his chartered plane at Natchitoches (La.) Airport after the concert at Northwestern Louisiana University in Monroe late Thursday night.

Croce broke into the national pop music scene with his tune "operator" and then followed with the hits "Bad, Bad Leroy Brown" and "Don't Mess Around With Jim" which earned him a gold album.

Croce was in the midst of a five-week tour through the Southwest. He said he preferred playing for college kids in the South because "East and West Coast audiences tend to have a 'show me' attitude."

Differences

Air Force Col. Theodore Guy, who drew national attention last May by charging eight fellow prisoners of war with collaborating with the North Vietnamese, has filed a no-fault divorce petition with his wife of 22 years in Tucson, Ariz.

The petition said the couple is seeking to dissolve the marriage "in consequence of unhappy differences between them."

Guy, now stationed at Homestead AFB, Fla., agreed to pay his wife $400 a month alimony and $400 a month support for two of their three sons.

Cowboy

Actor Glenn Strange, always the bad guy in the cowboy films, played Frankenstein's monster and poured beer for 11 years as Sam the bartender on "Gunsmoke," is dead at 74.

Leathery, drawling, with a face as lined as a dried creek bottom, the 6-foot-4 Strange died Thursday night of cancer at a Los Angeles hospital.

He appeared in more than 500 television films and 300 motion pictures, including "Red River," "Red Badge of Courage," "The Cardinals" and "Action on the North Atlantic."

Last Marines leave S.E. Asia

Combined News Service

BANGKOK — The U.S. Marines, who man for man suffered more casualties in the Indochina war than any other American force, officially ended their combat role in Southeast Asia Friday.

In ceremonies at the Remote Nam Phong Royal Thai Air Base, 240 miles northeast of Bangkok, known derisively as "The Rose Garden" by the Leathernicks stationed there, the American flag was lowered and the last Marines left Thailand. Indochina's fighting war continued unabated even without American participation, however. The pullout concluded three weeks of withdrawals. The U.S. still has six Air Force bases and just under 40,000 American servicemen and about 500 aircraft on Thai soil.

Chile frees Americans

SANTIAGO, Chile — Chile's junta government Friday released four imprisoned Americans including two graduate students held on subversion charges and plans soon to release two detained Maryknoll missionaries, the U.S. embassy reported. Earlier, the junta's president, Gen. Augusto Pinochet, announced that the Marxist parties which formed President Salvador Allende's governing coalition had been outlawed.

Italy warship strafed

ROME—Libyan air force jets strafed a 246-foot Italian warship guarding fishing boats in international waters off the Libyan coast Friday, slightly injuring two sailors, Italy's foreign ministry said. The Italian news agency Ansa said a member of Libya's ruling council expressed his "profound regrets" over the incident. The agency said Libya had told Italy the attack was a mistake and that Libyan aircraft have been instructed not to disturb the fishing boats and their escort ships. On Wednesday, five Sicilian fishing boats were captured by a Libyan coast guard vessel and their captains taken as prisoners on charges of fishing inside Libya's territorial waters.

Parents prod school-pact talk

Combined News Services

Determined parents anxious to get their children back in school kept a human barricade around the Highland Park, Mich., School Board building for the second day Friday while the board and striking teachers tried to reach agreement. Across the nation, more than 500,000 children were on an enforced vacation or getting only makeshift education as teachers remained away from classrooms in contract disputes.

Michigan was hardest hit with 19 districts strike bound. At Highland Park, an enclave city surrounded by Detroit, about 50 irate parents singing Gospel songs and wrapped in sleeping bags surrounded the board of education building to nudge negotiators into an early settlement of a salary dispute. They agreed earlier Friday to lift their two-day barricade while negotiators went to

Reunification ruled out

UNITED NATIONS — East Germany Friday ruled out reunification of Germany, calling it a "useless effort to spread illusions from the rostrum of the United Nations." This was an apparent reference to the speech of West German Vice Chancellor and Foreign Minister Walter Scheel two days ago who, in accepting Bonn's U.N. membership held up hope of eventual reunification of the two states. East Germany also said it would not pay any reparations to Israel for Nazi killings of Jews in World War II, and said the Berlin Wall will remain intact as long as there is no guarantee of European security.

Moscow, GM truck talks

MOSCOW—The Soviet Union has started preliminary talks with General Motors in hopes of convincing the U.S. automaker to build a billion-dollar truck factory in Siberia, U.S. sources said Friday. The sources said the Soviets had a target date of the early 1980s for the heavy-duty truck factory that will be larger than the Russian's own mammoth Kama River installation, which is now nearing completion at a location about 600 miles southeast of Moscow. The Kama River plant, with production planned at 150,000 heavy trucks and 150,000 engines a year, will be the world's largest truck factory. Its cost has been put at about $2 billion.

Japan, N. Viet ties

TOKYO — Japan and North Vietnam established diplomatic relations with each other Friday, giving Hanoi the political prestige of recognition by Asia's strongest non-Communist power. The agreement, reached in Paris and announced simultaneously here and in Hanoi, opens the way for large but still unspecified sums of economic aid and technical assistance from Japan to the Communist nation heavily damaged by U.S. bombing. It will give Tokyo the opportunity to increase its influence in Southeast Asia and to gain more diplomatic maneuvering room with the U.S., Soviet Union and China.

Opinionated court

WASHINGTON — Justices of the Supreme Court produced more written opinions during the 1972-73 term than in any term in recent history. Chief Justice Warren Burger released statistics which showed the nine justices issued 357 majority, concurring and dissenting opinions during the last term. This compares with 238 during the 1971-72 term. In recent memory the only term which approached the 1972-73 output was the 1970-71 term, in which 291 opinions were written and handed down.

Undaunted

Miss America, undaunted by complaints that she was not the prettiest or most talented contestant in the recent Miss America Pageant, said Friday in Atlantic City, N.J., "If they don't like me, that's fine."

Rebecca Ann King of Sterling, Colo., added, "I think maybe if they would get to meet me in person, they might change their minds. But I'm not out to win anybody over."

The 23-year-old blonde, who wants to enter law school and eventually become a judge, was the only one of the top five finishers who did not win a talent or swimsuit preliminary at the pageant two weeks ago. Pageant officials have received hundreds of letters from television viewers second-guessing the choice.

Black militant Angela Davis took a break from her activist labors to serve as godmother to a 20-month-old child at the little girl's christening.

Angela Chantill De-Ocampo was christened in a nighttime ceremony Thursday in Vallejo, Calif.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Constancio H. DeOcampo of Vallejo. The father is a Miwok Indian and has been active in Indian rights movements in the state.

Commander

The black officer who broke racial barriers in the U.S. Army's top command, Maj. Gen. Frederic E. Davison, was named Friday to take charge of all Army troops in the nation's capital.

A Pentagon spokesman said Davison, now commander of the 8th Infantry Division at Bad Kreuznach, West Germany, would assume command of the military district of Washington on Nov. 12.

Accused doctor challenged

By MOLLY BURRELL
Staff Writer

The trial of Long Beach physician Dr. Robert C. Kelleher recessed Friday noon after a short cross-examination in which the prosecution challenged the surgeon's prior testimony on his whereabouts during one of the days he is charged with raping a former patient.

The day in question,

Sept. 17, 1971, was the morning a 32-year-old woman claimed she was sexually assaulted as she emerged from sedation after an office procedure to aspirate blood clots. She is one of three women who have charged the doctor with the crime.

In previous testimony, the plastic surgeon has said that he left this patient immediately after the procedure, at about 11:20 or 11:30 a.m., went directly to Long Beach Hospital to examine another patient, rebandage her, write a prescription, and release her at 12:20 p.m.

Friday, Dep. Dist. Atty. Peter Bregman showed the doctor a notation on a hospital record which seemed to indicate the doctor had been at the hospital earlier, at 10 a.m. This he denied, and said the notation only indicated that the patient had had a bed bath.

Prior to cross-examination, Bregman called a gynecologist, Dr. James Bell, to the stand and questioned him about his examination of the woman who claimed she was raped—an abdominal scar and a vaginal infection being the subject of that examination.

Trial resumes Monday in Department C.

Youth found dead by Coyote Creek

The body of an unidentified young man Friday was found on the north embankment of Coyote Creek near Willow Street, police said.

Homicide detectives said a passerby discovered the body about 3 p.m. He told police the victim was lying in the concrete creek at the edge of El Dorado Park, near the Willow Street Bridge.

Detectives did not say how long the body might have been lying there or speculate on cause of death. An autopsy was scheduled for this morning by coronator's deputies. Detectives said, however, that the man had suffered a massive head injury.

Investigators described the victim as white, between 18 and 25, about 5 feet, 9 inches tall, 175 pounds, with collar-length auburn hair.

Docker sentenced on assault count

A 56-year-old Wilmington longshoreman was sentenced Friday to a possible five years in state prison on his plea of guilty to charges of assault with a deadly weapon and using a gun in a felony attack.

Albert P. Zamacona, 1240 1/2 McDonald Ave., also was sentenced, under a penal code provision, to undergo a 120-day psychiatric examination at Chino prison and return to the court when that diagnostic procedure has been completed. Judge Charles C. Stratton who imposed the sentence, will decide on the basis of the report whether Zamacona is eligible for probation.

Zamacona, originally went to trial for one count of murder and three of assault in connection with the death of one man and injury of three people in a shooting incident at his home last December. The jury deadlocked and a mistrial was declared.

Collection

How long will a collection agency keep a person's name in its files if a debt remains unpaid? I was told that after a certain period of time, the creditor declares the debt as a loss and gets back some of his money. Is this true? R.H., Long Beach.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT FEW PEOPLE DIE AFTER 95

The statute of limitations on debts is four years from the date of the last payment. If you leave California before the end of the four years, however, the statute of limitations is suspended until you return to the state. Also, if you make any payment on an old debt, the four-year period starts all over again. A collection agency may continue to send a debtor notices after four years, but the firm has no legal recourse against him. Most credit bureaus remove an unpaid debt listing from a person's file after a number of years — usually about seven — if he has not had any other credit problems since the date of the debt. A bankruptcy remains in a person's credit file for about 14 years if he has been a good credit risk in the interim. A creditor will declare an unpaid debt as part of his business losses in his year-end tax accounts, but this does not eliminate your obligation to pay the debt. If an old debt is paid, the creditor has to claim the sum as income on his current tax return.

Club

Can ACTION LINE help me find a social club for physically handicapped individuals? M.J., Long Beach.

You can join the Long Beach chapter of the Indoor Sports Club, an organization formed in the 1930s to provide recreation and fellowship for handicapped persons. Repair

I bought a washing machine and dryer, both used, from the United Veterans Organization store, 750 Long Beach Blvd., and paid them $110 out of a special grant I got from welfare. I was told the appliances were in good working condition but they were not. When I asked for a refund they arranged to send someone out to fix them. My father-in-law, who was present when they came, said they didn't fix anything but left us with a load of sloppy wet clothes and a flooded floor. Could you get them to pick up the appliances and give us a refund? J.S., Long Beach.

The store will not refund your money but they will repair the machines for you at your home when your father-in-law isn't present, or at their store if you bring them in. However, Norman Hall, their repairman, said he would charge you for any parts your father-in-law may have damaged when he took the washer apart. Hall said your father-in-law was verbally abusive to him and wouldn't let him work on the washer. The business claims the dryer was in working order when it was sold and that they had told you they didn't know if the washer worked or not but would repair it if it didn't.

Army records

I have a case pending before the Army Discharge Review Board and I'm worried that my records may have been destroyed in the July fire at the Military Personnel Record Center in St. Louis, Mo. I've heard that all the records for servicemen who were discharged in the last three years have been destroyed and there are no duplicates. I was discharged in 1972. Can ACTION LINE find out the status of these records? M.D., Bellflower.

The Military Personnel Records Center currently is in the process of restoring the damaged files and reassembling documents to replace those records that were totally destroyed. Although there were very few duplicates at the center itself, a government official said there are copies of most of the records at other military offices. The majority of destroyed or damaged records belonged to Army personnel who served in the armed forces prior to 1960. Some more recent records were involved. Government officials request that inquiries on the status of particular records be held off for a few months if possible until the reassembling process is completed. For information on your records, write to the Military Personnel Records Center, 9700 Page Blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63132. You should include a copy of your discharge certificate (form DD-421-D) if you have it.

Resignation flatly denied

Nixon-Agnew talk silence

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew met privately this week for the second time in three weeks, but have forbidden their staffs to discuss the substance of the session.

A Nixon spokesman said flatly on Friday that Agnew didn't resign.

The latest meeting, which lasted over an hour, was held Thursday afternoon in the Executive Office Building, Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said.

"The President and the vice president both agreed there would be no discussion or comment on the various rumors and stories based on unidentified sources," Warren said. He added that the two men also agreed "that no one on the White House staff or the vice president's staff was authorized to discuss the matter."

Warren said flatly that the vice president "did not submit his resignation."

J. Marsh Thomson, Agnew's press spokesman, said the meeting had taken place at Agnew's request, but refused comment on the substance of the discussion.

He said he hoped the policy of silence "is not going to lead to direct speculations about the subject matter," apparently meaning reports of Agnew's possible resignation.

Such speculation had been the subject of several news reports during the week.

The Nixon-Agnew meeting was the first substantive face-to-face session the two men have had since Sept. 1, when Nixon flew back here from California for a two-hour meeting at Agnew's request.

Meanwhile, it was learned Friday that some House Democratic members, including some party leaders, have flatly rejected the name of former Texas Gov. John B. Connally as a possible vice president should Agnew resign.

House Democratic sources said the subject of a successor to Agnew came up at several private meetings held by groups of Democratic members during the week.

Among the names considered acceptable as an Agnew successor were Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., former Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., the House minority leader. Another report said Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., also has been mentioned.

CONNALLY served in Nixon's cabinet as secretary of the Treasury, and later, after he had switched parties and became a Republican, he served briefly as a White House adviser. His name has been on of the most prominently mentioned in speculation about a successor to Agnew. It basically has been the reasoning of the House Democrats that no one who is a possible contender for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination is an acceptable replacement for Agnew.

"Why let your future opponent use the second highest office in the nation to launch a campaign against you?" one source asked.

One of the meetings at which the subject was most intensely discussed, the sources said, was a Wednesday session among House Democratic leaders and freshmen Democratic congressmen.

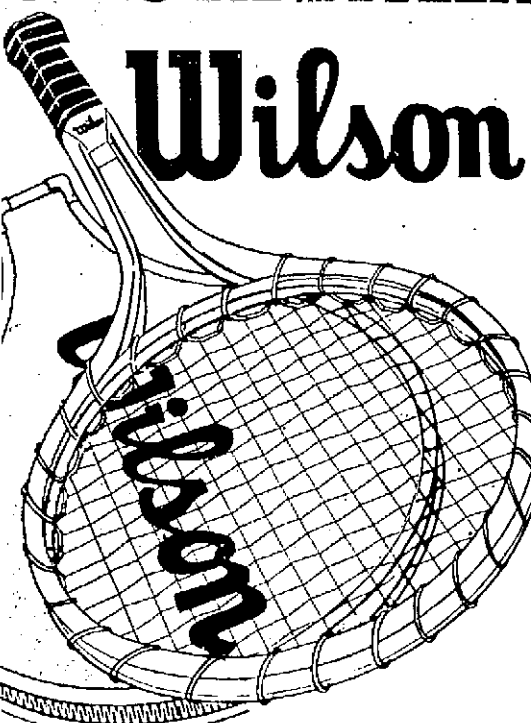

The freshmen formally requested that House Speaker Carl Albert discuss the matter of an Agnew successor with Nixon, but Albert turned down the request as premature.

AGNEW is under investigation by federal prosecutors and a special federal grand jury in Baltimore over allegations that he was involved in a scheme of kickbacks and bribery between Maryland politicians and state contractors.

Anti-TV hearings bid fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal judge Friday dismissed a suit by a citizens group which had asked for a halt to the televised Senate Watergate hearings that resume Monday.

U.S. District Judge June L. Green ruled that the group, the National Citizens Committee for Fairness to the Presidency, lacked proper standing to sue the Senate committee.

At a court hearing Friday, the group's lawyer, John S. Bottomly, said it had received a financial contribution from former White House aide Charles W. Colson.

The group claimed in its suit that the committee was denying constitutional rights to witnesses who appear before it to testify about alleged criminal activities and asked that the public televised hearings be halted.

Claiming a membership of over 40,000, the Rhode Island-based organization has been purchasing newspaper advertising which criticizes the news media and members of the Watergate committee.

In a letter to the fairness group, Colson said, "Needless to say, I have a small interest in what you are doing." He said he wanted to make a token contribution to the group. Colson has asked that he not be compelled to testify before the Senate committee because he was informed that he was a target of the Watergate grand jury investigating the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

After an executive session with the committee earlier this week, Colson invoked the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination. Committee chairman Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., said Colson would not be called to give testimony for next week's hearing.

MRS. MARIA SULLIVAN, 90, IN HER SAN CARLOS HOME

Man calls plan to evict aged grandma 'misunderstanding'

SAN CARLOS (AP) — The grandson of 90-year-old Maria Sullivan said Friday night it was all a misunderstanding that he wanted her evicted from the house where she's lived for 20 years but decided to him six years ago.

Earl Perry, 51, told newsmen he would appear at a hearing set for Oct. 2 and get an eviction served on his crippled and partly blind grandmother canceled.

He acknowledged that originally he told his lawyer, J. J. Quill, he wanted Mrs. Sullivan evicted, along with his aunt and her daughter who were living with the grandmother. But later, he said, he would let the grandmother stay, but Quill apparently misunderstood.

"He's changed his mind, ain't he," said Mrs. Sullivan. She said that when she decided the house to Perry he had promised orally she would be allowed to live there. "I'm glad he's giving in a little," she added.

Quill declined to comment on Perry's assertion the eviction notice had resulted from a misunderstanding. Earlier he had said Perry was attempting to force his grandmother to help with the $300-a-month mortgage payments with $25 a month from her $45 welfare rent allowance.

Rental tax loophole hit

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The purchase of four multistory buildings from Tishman Plaza in Los Angeles by Prudential Insurance Co. has cut a million dollars in rental income from state tax rolls, a tax study group said Friday.

The mostly student group, called Project Loophole and sponsored by Sen. Mervyn Dymally, D-Los Angeles, said that under California law insurance companies do not pay state taxes on investments or rental income.

Loophole said the prior owners of the Plaza buildings, all 11 and 12 stories high, were subject to state income taxes on the yearly $1 million in rental income from the project on Wilshire. The purchase was made last week, Loophole said.

The group also said that Prudential last year bought an 11-story building in Sacramento, the Park Executive or Ellis building.

"As a result, the rental income from this new office building, which would have been subject to state income taxes, is now exempt," said Richard Budnick, director of the group.

"The state loses millions of dollars of state income tax revenue each year due to heavy insurance investments in non-tariffs," Budnick added.

"Even though insurers are required to pay local property taxes and a tax on gross premiums, insurance firms are taking advantage on beneficial tax loopholes by increasing their investments because of enormous tax advantages," he said.

Deukmejian to push for pension protection laws

By NOEL SWANN
From Our L.A. Bureau

State Senator George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, vowed Friday that he will push for legislation governing private pension plans to protect workers' benefits and guarantee their funds will be there when they retire or are disabled.

Deukmejian made the statement to newsmen during a one-day hearing into pension fund abuses at which a parade of work workers and, in some cases, widows told how they were denied pensions because of technicalities.

Witnesses ranged from laborers to highly skilled and highly-paid aerospace workers who hit inequities in pension plans by industry and by unions.

SEVERAL of the workers who had been paying into union-provided pension programs claimed rank and file members often fear to inquire into their pension programs because, they said, "union officials blackball dissenters."

Several witnesses said they had worked for years under the belief that they would receive pensions after set periods of employment ranging from 10 to 20 years, depending on the plan. However, when the time came to collect pensions they said they were told they had not put in sufficient time.

One witness told Deukmejian he had put in more than 15 years work to qualify for the pension. When it came time to collect, he said union officials informed him he had only completed 12 years of service because the pension plan demanded workers put in at least 1,200 hours annually to qualify for one year of pension service.

ANOTHER witness claimed union agents would not hire workers unless they voted for the official. Because of this they said the agents had the power to deny them employment so that they could not put in the necessary hours to qualify for pensions.

In several instances workers said their union representatives told them they had to forego pay raises during labor negotiations so as to receive pension benefits—only to find at retirement they did not qualify for the pension and in the process had lost the benefits of the pay raises over the years.

One man said he had worked for the Teamsters Union for 38 years—30 on the East Coast and eight on the West Coast.

He said he was told when leaving the East Coast that his pension benefits would continue to accrue to him. But on retirement he said he was told the Teamsters' West Coast pension plan did not recognize service on the East Coast and because of this he received benefits only for the last eight years of service.

Deukmejian told newsmen he was "amazed that the abuses affected all walks of life." He said he was also disturbed to realize there was no effective law or government agency set up to aid workers in their protests at being denied pensions.

HE SAID several months ago his Senate committee heard testimony from representatives from the pension industry and those providing the union plans saying their plans were "good" and were "well run and tailored to meet the peculiar needs of workers in their industries."

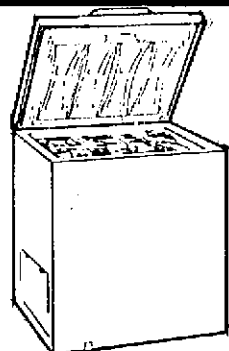

"This optimistic analysis did not, however, seem to agree with the many calls and complaints we received and because of this I directed the committee staff to undertake an extensive investigation of private pension plans in this state," Deukmejian said.

He said the staff, after interviewing hundreds of persons, found examples of "nepotism, preferential treatment, apparent fraud, poor fund management and questionable investments."

In most cases, he said, the victims had "little or no idea of what the terms of their pension agreements were."

Caution urged in policy on drug warnings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food and Drug Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt said Friday he will only rarely use his new authority to withhold public warnings when defective medical products of a life-and-death nature are taken off the market.

When announcements are withheld, he said the information in abbreviated form will be made public on the agency's weekly recall reports "as promptly as possible."

"The likelihood of my using this discretionary device is extremely limited," Schmidt said of the FDA's new policy of making public warnings optional, rather than mandatory, as at present.

"This publicity must be consistent with the nature of the hazard involved and with the numbers of people at risk," he said. "We do not want to blow up a tornado of publicity to put out a candle when a single breath of air will do."

Schmidt acknowledged that the FDA may have violated its own procedural guidelines by not issuing a public warning last April when a recall began of 1,500 implanted heart valves with a potential for breaking. He conceded that the recall still has not been made public in reports of such FDA actions.

"A very hard-nosed and aware commissioner" will assure that this does not occur again, he said.

"All recalls will continue to be listed as promptly as possible in the weekly recall list. The only change is to provide that in certain rare instances the commissioner may decide to limit the manner and the degree of publicity the agency will seek."

The benefits of public warnings, he said, must be weighed against the risk of causing panic among patients as they learn about a defective product from the news media rather than their personal physicians.

Under the new policy, recalls will be divided into three classes: those presenting the most serious threat to health; those where the hazard is only potential, and those which involve violations of the law but where the health hazard is remote or nonexistent.

Recalls of food contaminated with botulin toxin call for "the broadest possible publicity," the commissioner said.

A touch of inflation

Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., gets ready for lunch on the first day of his two-week low-income diet. He plans to spend $1.25 a day to "personally experience in a small way what hundreds of thousands of low income Americans victimized by runaway inflation experience day in and day out." Complained Tunney after polishing off his cheese sandwich: "I'm still hungry." Tunney plans to introduce legislation next week which he says will help stabilize food prices and improve enforcement of price controls.

Nixon to allot propane supply

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has decided to order mandatory allocation of propane fuel to users facing possible shortages in coming months. White House officials said Friday. Details are to be announced within a few days.

They said that no decision has been made as yet on a parallel proposal for mandatory allocation of fuel oil to help avoid shortages during the winter months, but that such an order was under consideration and will be acted upon as possible.

Nixon received a report Friday summarizing the pros and cons of rationing based on recent public hearings and comments solicited from industry and other sources.

Propane is the main fuel used for crop drying and is widely used in rural areas for home heating and cooking.

"Details are still being worked out," officials said.

White House energy adviser John A. Love met with the governors of seven states and representatives of three others on Wednesday. They recommended some "sort of mandatory allocation" to ease possible critical shortages in the coming months.

Consumer suit seeks to bar floating gas rates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three members of Congress and two consumer groups Friday filed suit in U.S. District Court here for an injunction to block a temporary "virtual deregulation" of natural gas rates by the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

The suit was filed jointly by Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., Reps. Michael J. Harrington, D-Mass., and George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif., and Consumers Union and Ralph Nader's Public Citizens Group.

They asked the court to overrule an FPC ruling issued Sept. 14 authorizing "emergency sales" of natural gas supplies in certain categories through next March 15.

Allowing certain sales at any price the gas producers ask will add millions of dollars to consumers' costs over the next six months and the ruling may be extended even beyond March 15, spokesmen for the litigants said.

Holifield and Horton lecture Nader, shut off response

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic chairman and ranking Republican of a House committee both lectured Ralph Nader at a hearing Friday, calling him "ignorant of the legislative process" and prone to "tirades."

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Los Angeles, chairman of the House Government Operations Committee, and Rep. Frank Horton, R-N.Y., criticized Nader for half an hour as he testified on a bill that would establish an independent federal consumer protection agency.

Nader said a bill Horton and Holifield proposed "isn't worth passing" as presently designed because even though it would create an agency responsible for protecting consumer interests in other federal agencies, the new body would not be allowed to intervene in informal proceedings where decisions are made on many consumer-related issues, including auto safety.

It would be impossible to pass the kind of bill Nader wants, Holifield said, and President Nixon would veto it even if Congress were to approve it.

"The gentleman can denounce and vilify and use derogatory terms if he wants to," Holifield said, referring to Nader. "But the gentleman will not be successful in inflicting his opinion on the Congress. Whether you agree with their (congressmen's) convictions or not, that is how the game is played. Horton asked Nader if he was trying "to kill the bill" or to get it through Congress.

"I want an agency that is effective," Nader replied.

"If you take the adamant position you did the last time," Horton said, alluding to the bill's death in the Senate, "you're not going to get a bill again. You're going to have to have some compromise."

Nader protested Holifield's comments and sought a chance to respond, but the chairman closed the hearing with a bang of his gavel and told Nader to submit his exceptions in writing.

GM talks business with Soviet Union

NEW YORK (UPI) — The overseas division of General Motors Corp. said Friday it was discussing a broad range of projects with Soviet government officials in hopes of developing commercial relations with the country.

Spokesmen for the General Motors Overseas Corp. declined, however, to confirm or deny a published report that negotiations are directed specifically toward construction of a large truck manufacturing complex in Siberia.

"A group of General Motors executives and engineers visited the Soviet Union in April this year to deliver technical presentations on GM products and to explore the possibility of developing commercial relations," said a spokesman for the overseas division.

"Discussions are still in the preliminary stage, and there are no specific agreements," he said. "There are discussions in a number of areas."

Business Week magazine said Friday that General Motors was involved in negotiations toward building a truck manufacturing complex in Siberia that would be even larger than the Soviets' $2 billion Kama River truck plant.

The Kama River plant, which is scheduled to begin production next year, is the biggest truck manufacturing complex in the world. Several American automotive supply firms are participating in the Kama River project under government licensing.

The General Motors spokesman said current discussions with Soviet officials had ranged over a wide variety of products from refrigerators to electric locomotives and the means of putting them on the Russian market.

Three years ago Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., visited the Soviet Union and opened negotiations for Ford to build a truck plant there. The plan was dropped later in the year, however. Ford said the project was not feasible at that time, but there were reports that the Nixon administration wanted the project halted.

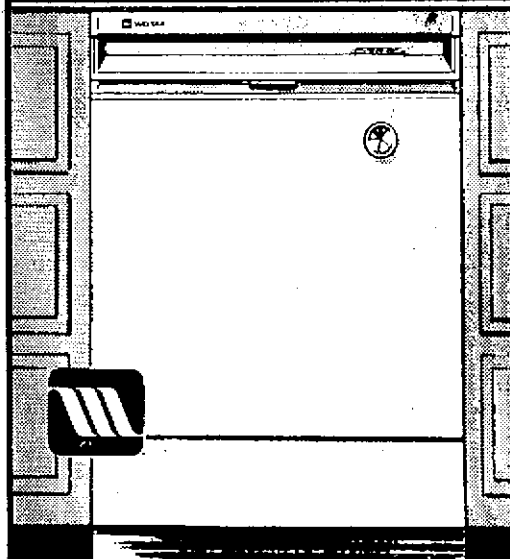

Bill seeks override of pay veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., introduced a resolution Friday to override President Nixon's proposal to postpone by two months federal pay increases scheduled for Oct. 1.

McGee, chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, said the two-month delay would reduce "the average employee's pay increase by one-sixth, an average loss of about $120 per federal employee."

what they are in Western nations, two Finnish psychiatrists report.

They cite a study by Chinese mental health workers during the Great Leap, which began in 1958, in which 2.2 million persons were examined and interviewed. The study found that the rate for schizophrenic illness was about 1 per cent, compared to about 10 per cent in Western nations.

The study on Chinese psychiatry was reported by Drs. Vappu and Ilkka Taipale of Aurora Hospital, Helsinki, and appears in the September issue of the Archives of General Psychiatry, published by the American Medical Association.

The Finns apparently obtained a copy of the report during a recent visit to China.

They said the Chinese tend to explain their lower rate "by improved social conditions," but add that "this can hardly explain such a great deviation."

"It seems more probable that their new society tolerates abnormal behavior and can rehabilitate a patient better than industrial western countries," they wrote.

The Finnish psychiatrists said: "Western psychiatrists often express their fear that an individual in a socialistic country has to suffer until he is facing a psychiatric breakdown before he is allowed to seek treatment for his psychic disturbance."

However, they said, "In China we got the impression that they take an unsurprisingly serious and considerate attitude right from the beginning toward illness of any type."

"On the other hand, being ill is connected with the ideological view that sickness and health are nobody's private concern. Rather, the health of every individual is important to the whole society and it is necessary that everybody looks after his own health, his neighbor's health, and cooperates with his own treatment in every way if he happens to be ill," they report.

Patients at the Central Mental Hospital in Shanghai study the works of Communist leader Mao Tse-tung with each other and with a staff member, they wrote. "The texts served as a starting point, giving the patient an opportunity to deal with his own personal problems in a supportive and understanding group milieu."

Scientists set sights on comet

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Astronomers at Fernbank Science Center are looking forward to studying the Comet Kohoutek, which will be visible to the naked eye from late November until mid-February but may not reappear for 50,000 years.

The Kohoutek Comet, which will be studied by scientists at observatories around the world, is expected to far outshine the famous Halley's Comet of 1910. It may even be bright enough to be seen in daylight.

The Kohoutek Comet, named for the West German astronomer who discovered it last March, will appear in the pre-dawn sky late in November.

FERNBANK astronomer Bob Hayward says that at the point of best visibility, the Kohoutek Comet could be 100 times more brilliant than the brightest star. He said its tail could extend in an arc as far as 60 degrees from the horizon.

Hayward said the comet's long, elliptical orbit around the sun indicates that it is part of the solar system, even though astronomers predict it will not reappear for 50,000 years if it remains within the sun's gravitational pull.

It will pass within 13.2 million miles of the sun Dec. 28, and then be flung toward the far reaches of its orbit.

After Dec. 28, the comet will appear after sunset and increase in brilliance until it far exceeds the brightest stars.

HAYWARD'S colleague, Richard Williamson, says one theory concerning the origin of such phenomena is that a swarm of comets surrounds our solar system, several trillion miles from earth.

Only a few of the hundreds of comets known to men have been bright enough to be perceived by the naked eye. Halley's Comet, which made a brilliant display over the earth in 1920, is expected to orbit back into view in 1986.

Williamson said comets are believed to be frozen gases and other matter. The tails are formed as the vapor to stream out behind them.

"If comets are leftover material from when the solar system was formed, then we have a chance to see a piece of original matter," said Williamson. "It could help us unravel the mysteries about the origin of the earth and formation of the solar system."

Briefly ... No Mo. Synod peace, top 100 schools, Superstar P.S.

How goes the struggle within the embattled Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod? Months have passed since the fateful New Orleans convention in which conservative President Preus and his followers swept the boards and laid down rules of theological orthodoxy. The president of Concordia Theological Seminary is still on the job, as are the great majority of the faculty members who support his position. Does this mean that things are simmering down, and that reconciliation may be under way?

Not really. Some 800 of the "moderate" leaders from all over the United States and Canada have met in the Chicago area to repudiate the convention action and to organize a new "confessing movement" within the denomination.

Chaired by Dr. F. Dean Lueking and Dr. John Tietjen (president of the seminary, the Synod's largest), the assembly unanimously adopted a manifesto which called the New Orleans action invalid and unconstitutional.

Heart of the manifesto is contained in this paragraph: "We call our Synod to return to the Word of God as the instrument for facing issues of doctrine and conscience. We stand in the Lutheran heritage firmly convinced that since popes and councils can do err, such binding impositions must be resisted. Therefore our conscience will not be bound by doctrinal resolutions of conventions. We declare null and void any attempt to make resolutions of men binding upon us."

This is, hardly by accident, rich in the flavor of Martin Luther's own proclamation which launched the Protestant Reformation. The group concludes with a denial of schismatic intent.

Preus responded this week by terming the group "insurgents." The meeting, he said, was "a rebellion not only against our Synod and its recent convention but, more importantly, against God's holy, inspired, and inerrant Word."

If the English language

means anything, this difference has gone beyond the point of no return.

What it is about is a fundamental issue hardly confined to Missouri Synod Lutherans. It is: How does one read the Bible?

One position holds that the Bible is the Word of God, to be read literally. It regards attempts at "interpretation" and "putting into cultural context" as perverting the belief that the Bible—God's word—contains errors. It sees this process as leading to a challenge to the very cornerstones of Christianity.

The other side, while believing the Bible to be inspired of God, holds that men living in a certain period were the tools used for transmitting the Word. They say that improved research techniques and historical analysis should be brought to bear on the Bible to clarify and strengthen its message today.

It is much the same fight that flared briefly in the conservative Southern Baptist Convention when President Criswell's book "Why the Bible Should Be Read Literally" came under fire from Baptist scholars.

The Bible fundamentalists won that fight hands down, since most of the pastors and a vast majority of those in the pews in Southern Baptist churches agree with Criswell. Most of the pastors and members in the Missouri Synod agree with Preus, which makes the outcome equally inevitable. And proper, for the Missouri Synod. These are basics which cannot be sweet-talked around.

Which is why we still strongly suspect that in due time the Synod moderates will give up and move to other communions more congenial to their views, or at least, more elastic about containing the views side by side with others.

THE ANNUAL list of the 100 largest Sunday Schools compiled by Christian Life magazine is here again. The church with the most buses—139—wins again, hands down. That's First Baptist of Hammond, Ind., pastored by Dr. Jack Hyles, reporting a weekly attendance of 7,837.

Four churches in this area are to be found on the list. The giant Garden Grove Community Church, a Reformed Church in America drive-in pioneer, is 26th with attendance of 1,947. It finished five notches higher last year.

First Baptist Church of Lakewood, which actually is in Long Beach, is 49th at 1,585, up one from last year's finish. It is affiliated with the Baptist General Conference.

Calvary Baptist of Bellflower, of the Baptist Bible Fellowship, finished 69th, with attendance of 1,397. This is a jump up in the standings from last year's finish at number 86.

North Long Beach Brethren, of the Grace Brethren Fellowship, wound up 91st, with school attendance of 1,254. Last year it finished 77th.

Congratulations to the area's "Big Four" in Sunday Schools.

A P.S. ON the charge by Jewish organizations that the movie "Jesus Christ Superstar" strengthens anti-Semitic stereotypes. The charge was made by major Jewish organizations, backed by several Protestant scholars. Several secondary Jewish groups spoke of seeking to have the movie banned.

This attitude is termed wrong in a study guide on the film by an arm of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, of the Reform liberal wing of American Jewry. While the film may be harmful, says Rabbi Balfour Brickner, director of the National Commission of Interfaith Activities of Reform Judaism, "rather than simply denounce the movie as anti-Semitic and seek to have it banned, as some Jewish groups have done, the Jewish community would do much better if it devoted itself to a study and discussion of the exacerbating issues involved both with its own constituency and with the Christian community."

Brickner adds that director Norman Jewison (a Methodist, who also directed the classic Fiddler on the Roof) did not set about to create a film with anti-Semitic overtones.

Any negative impact of the film, the Reform study guide adds, may be mitigated if Christians and Jews take advantage of its presence to raise and discuss with each other in honesty the questions involved.

Full impact of the film will not really be felt until it plays at popular prices through the neighborhoods, at which time Jesus Christ Superstar is apt to come under fire from quite another direction, by conservative Protestants who feel it to be irreverent, unbiblical, and worse, toward Jesus.

FROM THE PULPIT

DR. FRANK COLLINS

The summer is ended and the harvest is past. Are you saved? The most important mission in life is our business transaction with God. Better a thousand times that a man never be born once than that he live and die without being born again of the Spirit.

All of our opinions and religious practices within themselves do not fit us for heaven. They may help us tremendously in this life but when this life is over, what then? Except a man be born again he cannot enter the kingdom of heaven.

The plan of salvation is simple, yet it is the most essential plan in life. Actually, it is called the simple ABC's of salvation.

1. All have sinned and come short of the glory of God.
2. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved.
3. Confess Him before me.

There are, of course, enlargements in understanding, but there is always a beginning. There is a primer in all educational systems, and there is no graduate work until the elementary has been completed.

If you are concerned we would be happy to counsel with you. There is absolutely no obligation on your part — only a real desire to help.

Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you!

EL DORADO PARK COMMUNITY CHURCH, 3655 Norwalk Blvd., Long Beach

At thriving L.B. church Mother, daughter in pastoral team

By LES RODNEY

And how do men feel about a church in which a woman is pastor and her daughter is assistant pastor?

Rev. Esther Mallett, an open-faced woman of 53, smiled—or, more exactly, beamed.

"We have more men here than women."

Including two former leaders of Hells Angels, one of whom is now head deacon, she added proudly.

Community Chapel of Long Beach is a bustling house of worship with more than 500 members, a many-faceted program of activities, and three-year-old "Southern California Bible College," which it operates on the premises. It all began in 1957 with Bible classes held in her home, the pastor relates.

Somebody must have liked her efforts. She gave up her successful real estate career in North Long Beach as the congregation grew steadily, bought an empty lot on Cherry Avenue below Artesia Boulevard, built a church and dedicated it in 1963. "We're still growing," she says.

DAUGHTER KAY, one of four children—the only girl—was ordained in August and serves as assistant pastor. "A tall, poised 29-year-old, she handles the music, which includes a 50-voice red-robed choir, and an instrumental group which makes joyous noises into the Lord with trumpet, guitar, mandolin and trap drums. Kay also takes the Sunday evening service.

Is the new assistant a pretty good preacher?

Pastor Mallett looked at Assistant Pastor Mallett with only the hint of a maternal smile. "She's good. You come and hear her."

The chapel is independent, not affiliated with any national denomination. Pastor Mallett comes from Southern Baptist background. She describes her church's stance and theology this way:

"Well, we're full gospel. No, not Pentecostal. We teach the word of God and stay away from church dogmas. We teach Jesus Christ instead of religion. We just invite everyone, and get them acquainted with Jesus."

Folks at the chapel and the school come from most all religious traditions, she says. "In our catechism classes, I'd say half are of Catholic background." Unlike many other churches these days, Community Chapel reports good success in attracting and holding young people.

A SIMPLE, fundamental Biblical faith based on "knowing Jesus," without denominational lies, is not necessarily unique, it was observed. What is the particular attraction here for young people?

Pastor Kay answered that one. "We have an active youth ministry, counseling for those with problems, summer and winter camps for ages 6 to college age, and a regular youth education program.

"The main thing is we're active, we have a lot of things going. I think that's why young people like it here, they get involved. That's what young people really want."

Pastor Esther cited one young woman member who has overcome a former $100 a day heroin habit. She calculates the church has been instrumental in helping 300 more youngsters get off drugs.

The church supports mission programs in Mexico and Africa ("We led seventy lepers to the Lord in Africa" says the pastor), sends visitors to jails, hospitals and rest homes, runs Royal Ranger and Missionette programs, sponsors evangelistic youth trips to Mexico and has begun a weekly radio program. It even goes in for church football and softball.

Though independent, Community Chapel is not isolationist or argumentative toward other churches. "We fellowship with all churches," says the pastor, "with anyone who loves the Lord." She shrugged. "No one has all the truth. We don't."

LOOKING BACK at the church's growth from nothing, she says "God did it all." One of her prides is a small brochure entitled "How to Live Forever—There Is Only One Way." It is sent to many institutions, including prisons.

A Colorado warden just wrote me to thank me," Pastor Mallett said. "He wrote it was like casting bread upon the water."

The small folding tract contains brief Biblical

Jewish New Year launches High Holy Days

Rosh Hashanah, marking the start of the year 5734 on the Jewish calendar, will be celebrated starting at sundown Wednesday.

This begins the High Holy Days, most meaningful observance for world Jewry, lasting 10 days and culminating with Yom Kippur, the solemn day of atonement.

The period is considered a time for each Jew to examine his way of life and its shortcomings, with a view to doing better in the year ahead. The call to purposeful introspection is symbolically proclaimed by the sounding of the shofar, the ram's horn, used in ancient days to summon Jews to battle as the enemy approached.

Because of larger than usual attendance, some synagogues hold their services in larger halls.

Temple Sinai will again hold its observance in the Elks Club auditorium, Wednesday at 8 p.m.

For the 18th consecutive year, Temple Israel will accept the hospitality of First Congregational Church, with services in the downtown sanctuary at 8:30 p.m. Similarly, Los Altos United Methodist Church makes its sanctuary available for 8 p.m. services to Temple Beth David of Westminster.

Temple Beth Shalom has scheduled Rosh Hashanah services at the temple 8 p.m. Temple Beth El similarly at 7 p.m. In Lakewood, Temple Beth Zion will begin the holiday at 8 p.m. Congregation Lubavich of Long Beach starts at 7:15 p.m.

All will also hold Thursday morning services, as is traditional.

GOINGS ON

"It's Cool in the Furnace," a sprightly musical story about the Old Testament characters Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, which has been praised by teachers, will be presented Sunday 7 p.m. and repeated Monday 7:30 p.m. by the Honor Choir of LAKEWOOD FIRST BAPTIST, 5336 Arbor Road, Long Beach. The Buryl Red music, with lyrics by Grace Hawthorne, includes calypso, folk, rock, jazz and blues, and, says choir director John Hallett, "is fun while it teaches valuable lessons. It gives the children a chance to sing, shout, ring bells, play kazoos, shake tambourines and beat drums." Producer is Betty Morse.

Dr. Charles R. Taylor, author of the book "World War III and the Destiny of America," and president of Today in Bible Prophecy Inc., will hold a three-day Bible prophecy conference starting Friday, 7 p.m. in BETHEL BAPTIST, L. and Neptune Streets, Wilmington.

Dr. James Kallas of California Lutheran College, author of several highly praised books on the Bible, will present another series of five Sunday evening lectures, starting this Sunday 7 p.m., on the writings of the Apostle John as found in the Gospel of John and the book of Revelation. Refreshments, questions and answers, donation asked of $5 per entire family, or $2.50 per individual, for the entire series, at OUR SAVIOUR'S LUTHERAN, 370 Junipero Ave.

At the same church at 2 p.m. this afternoon, organist David Dalke will hold a special session designed to inspire young people to appreciate good music.

Bass Redd, engineering analysis division manager for the space shuttle program of NASA, former systems manager in the Apollo program, will speak tonight at TRUETT MEMORIAL BAPTIST, 3435 San Anselino Ave., with the program opened at 7:30 by the 50-voice youth choir from Antioch Baptist Church.

In a continuation of the dedication celebration for the church's new facilities, BETHANY LUTHERAN, 4644 Clark Ave. will present an organ concert Sunday 7 p.m. by Wallace Horton on the Reuter pipe organ, featuring an original dedication hymn in addition to classics.

Rev. Homer Reagan will lead a nine-night evangelistic campaign starting Sunday at CALVARY BAPTIST, 5722 Lime Ave., with a different Bible message each night, singing and guest musicians.

Lillian Lehman, co-star of the new NBC series "Tenebly" will be featured guest Sunday 7 p.m. as HOLY CROSS LUTHERAN, 4321 Cerritos Ave., Cypress, begins a series of youth services.

"A Thief in the Night," the movie about the Second Coming, will be shown Sunday, 7 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. in WEST LAKEWOOD BAPTIST, Hayter and Hardwick.

The Christian Athletes of Pacific Christian College will present a program of music and testimony Sunday, 7 p.m. in NORTH LONG BEACH CHRISTIAN, 1115 E. Market St.

BIBLE TEACHER

Dr. John E. Hunter of England, honorary representative of the Torchbearers Capernwray Missionary Fellowship, and author of many internationally circulated books, including "Knowing God's Secrets," will present a series of Bible messages Sunday through Friday at Truett Memorial Baptist Church, 3435 San Anselino, Times, Sunday 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m., weeknights at 7:30. There will be special music.

AGAPE LEADER

Larry W. Poland, director of Campus Crusade for Christ's Agape movement, will speak Sunday, 10:45 a.m. in Los Altos Brethren Church, 6565 Stearns St. Dr. Poland was a sociology instructor at Grace College, Winona Lake, Ind., and was first full-time president of Miami Christian University, Florida, from 1967-73.

POSITIVE THINKING

by Norman Vincent Peale

Answer fast—are you happy?

Are you happy? Well, I was asked this question on a television interview program. The interviewer, a bright and sophisticated person, asked questions briskly and cleverly. Finally, in that cheery wrap it up tone that always signifies the end of a show, he said, "And now, folks, we have time for just one more question and, Dr. Peale, you'll have to answer it fast. You've got exactly fifteen seconds for this one."

I braced myself and he threw it at me. "Are you a happy man?"

Well! I gulped! I had to make up my mind and fast. But then answered with certainty, "Sure, of course I am. And I always expect to be."

WHAT ABOUT YOU? Suppose you were asked right out like that whether or not you are happy and given fifteen seconds to answer. You wouldn't have time to think, to equivocate, to analyze or explain. You'd have to answer either yes or no. Your quick intuitive answer would probably be the true response because basically we know whether or not we are happy.

Anyway, here you have one of the fundamental questions we all have to answer; if not to someone at least to ourselves: Are you a happy person?

"If you round up any stray sheep, bring one home for the freezer!"

What would your answer be?

According to psychologist who have put this question to large groups of people, many answer that they are not happy. Happiness somehow seems to elude so many individuals, no matter how hard they try for it. Some, more cynical, conclude there is no happiness in this life anyway. And some super serious persons actually reason that no one has a right to be happy in this mixed-up world (which Schopenhauer, the gloomy philosopher, called "that theatre of sin, suffering and death.")

But The Greatest Philosopher of all, the one who taught in Galilee and Judea, offered the secret of real happiness, and his formula is a simple one. "These things have I spoken to you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full," He said.

What are "these things" to which the Great Teacher refers? Of course the answer is things like love, forgiveness, unselfishness, goodness, mastering weaknesses, helping people. Have you noticed that you always get a warm glow when you do any of these? Well that warm inner glow is a pretty good sign that you are on the track of happiness. The more times you register that glowing feeling the happier you're likely to become.

A friend of mine, a sort of grumpy unhappy fellow, read one of my books in which I advocate trying "these things" as a sure fire happiness formula. He wrote a doubting type of letter inquiring if I actually thought this made practical sense or was it just pious platitudes.

IT SO HAPPENED that he is an industrial scientist, and I suggested that he apply his scientific methodology to this material and judge for himself whether or not it works. Approached on this basis and of course wanting happiness for himself he decided that for one month he would seriously try to live exactly as Jesus teaches. But being exact of mind, before beginning the experiment he made a thorough study of those teachings and worked out a plan of operation in five steps:

1. I will be honest at all times and in every situation.

2. I will forgive everybody and hate nobody.

3. I will hold no wrong or negative thoughts.

4. I will be kind and thoughtful to other people.

5. I will see good where I've been seeing the bad.

Every night he carefully and objectively checked his "score." It wasn't easy going for his mind by long practice was conditioned otherwise. But he stuck at it. At the end of the month, even with imperfections in his "score," he declared, "This way of living has it over any other I've ever known. I was a jerk for not getting with it long ago." This method continued over many months and gradually made this former sour guy into a basically happy person. Ask him "Are you happy?" and you'd get a quick positive response.

FAMILY TALKS AT BETHANY

Ken Pouré returns to Long Beach for one of his popular "Family Forums," speaking at Bethany Baptist Church, 2250 Clark Ave. Sunday through Wednesday. Former car dealer, he has been main speaker for 13 years at Hume Lake Christian Camps, and has conducted hundreds of family crusades. He will speak Sunday 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., Monday and Tuesday at 6:30 a.m. to husbands, 10 a.m. to mothers, and 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. with emphasis on youth and family. He winds up Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

LECTURES ON HOME CONCEPT

Nancy E. Houston, former professor of physical education at the University of Illinois, now on tour as a Christian Science lecturer, will speak Thursday, 8 p.m. in Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist, 201 E. Market St. Topic, "Is Anybody at Home?" will deal with the healing power of a spiritually enlightened concept of the home. The public is invited without charge.

UNDERGROUND EVANGELIST

Rev. Stephan Bankov, former "underground pastor" in Communist countries of Europe who escaped from Bulgaria after imprisonment and torture, will speak Sunday at 11 a.m. in Calvary Apostolic Tabernacle, Clark Avenue and Hedda Street, Lakewood. Before his arrest in 1969, he distributed 17,000 pocket-size Bibles smuggled into the country by the missionary organization Underground Evangelism.

Rescue Mission fete to hail big 1st year

LEGER

Long Beach Rescue Mission, a successful pioneering venture for the city, will celebrate its first anniversary Friday at 6:45 p.m. with a banquet held in First Brethren Church, 3601 Linden Ave.

Speaker will be Rev. Emile Leger, retired lieutenant colonel in Army Intelligence, who served on missions in World War II and Korea, now executive director of the International Union of Gospel Missions. At an earlier period in his life, Leger was a tavern keeper.

During its first year, the local Rescue Mission at 540 W. Broadway fed more than 47,600 free meals, slept over 11,200 people who had no home, distributed food boxes to needy families, conducted Sunday School for children, special meetings for mothers, and carried on a ministry in the city jail.

Reservations may be obtained for the banquet by phoning the Mission at 435-4801.

IT'S BURN THE MORTGAGE DAY

Immanuel Baptist Church at 3215 E. Third St. will celebrate the happy occasion of its mortgage burning ceremony Sunday at 11 a.m. The congregation, under the leadership of Rev. Dr. Philip Ray, has liquidated in short order the debt for the renovation of the church.

Guest speaker will be Rev. Dr. George Downing, executive secretary of the American Baptist Churches for Southern California, and former minister at Immanuel.

Eckankar, an ancient spiritual belief which holds that in this physical life one can reach the realm of spirit, or kingdom of heaven, is being introduced each Friday, 7:30 p.m. at the Long Beach ECKANKAR SOCIETY, 833 E. Fourth St.

Christian Science

is sunday school out-of-date?

It's never out-of-date to understand God, and man, and the true nature of the universe.
This understanding is what young people up to the age of 20 gain in our Sunday School.
They're taught a warm and practical Christianity, and how to apply it to everyday problems.
And as they study the Bible, together with Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, they're preparing to help solve the world's problems in the most forward-looking, fresh, and effective way.
Wouldn't you like your children to visit soon?

Perez leaves Dodgers for dead

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

Tony Perez was sitting by his locker, pulling on his grey Cincinnati Reds uniform with the radio blaring in the background two hours before Friday night's game at Dodger Stadium.

"The Dodgers need a sweep of the important three-game series they open tonight," voice from radio said into the nearly-vacant Reds' clubhouse, causing a big grin to form on the lips of Perez.

"There is no chance of that," he said confidently, standing and grabbing his glove, then snapping his cap into place. "It's just too late, way too late for the Dodgers."

As if to prove his point, the happy Cuban then personally dismantled about any hopes the Dodgers had of catching up with the first-place Reds in the National League's Western Division.

Perez singled his first three times to the plate, then doubled in the eighth inning and, still not satisfied, propelled a mammoth three-run homer into the leftfield seats off of Charlie Hough in the top of the 10th inning, giving Cincinnati a 4-1 victory over the O'Malleys.

It snapped a four-game Dodger win streak but, more than that, it dropped them back to 5½ games off the Reds' pace.

The "magic number" is now reduced to three.

The clubs play again this afternoon and Sunday afternoon and even if the Dodgers win both games, it would leave them 3½ behind with only six to play.

It was a must win for the Dodgers and for eight innings they were close to it. But George Foster led off the Reds' ninth with a homer off of Claude Osteen, tying the game at 1-all, and then Perez polished it off in the 10th.

Earlier in the evening, Sparky Anderson, the manager of the Reds, said it "was the most disappointing day of my life," talking of the two-day suspension handed down by National League president Chub Feeney on his catcher Johnny Bench.

But Bench was hardly missed as the Reds bashed out 15 hits including five by Perez and four by Foster.

The Dodgers didn't exactly get the best of it in breaks when they lost one run as Von Joshua's double bounced into the seats, preventing a second run from scoring in the second inning when they got their only run, and in the sixth when Willie Crawford hit a ball that appeared to have sailed over the rightfield wall and bounced back in.

"We all thought it was out," Alston said of Crawford's ball. "Osteen gave up a lot of hits but he pitched well. If we get either of those runs, he beats them."

The Dodgers could have had an early jump, even without those two runs. After Joshua's double produced the first run, the Dodgers loaded the bases against Jack Billingham, the Reds' 18-game winner. But Bill Buckner took a called third strike and Billingham was out of it.

L.B. State offense offensive; 24-6 loss

By JIM McCORMACK
Staff Writer

The defensive portion of the Long Beach State football team is beginning to understand how Charlie Brown feels when Lucy opens each football season by pulling the ball away just as Charlie is getting ready to kick it.

Mike Kuklenski's commands pounced on seven San Jose State turnovers Friday night and gave the Long Beach offense the ball on the San Jose 44, 33, 22, 32, 34, 36 and 17, but when the Pacific Coast Athletic Assn. contest was over, the 49er defenders could ask only, "What happened?"

What happened was San Jose State's five-year Veterans Stadium turnout estimated at 3,000 by overcoming its own mistakes, and recorded a 24-6 triumph.

The contest was only 7-0 at halftime — San Jose had already lost the ball four times — but the Spartans scored once in the third period on a 75-yard punt return and then added 16 points in the final 15 minutes to improve their season record to 3-0 and drop Long Beach's credential to 0-3, the worst start in Jim Stangeland's five-year tenure at Long Beach.

The 75-yard punt return typified the 49ers' struggling offense.

Long Beach opened the second half on defense and it was only three plays into the third period when Greg Bailey intercepted a Craig Kimball pass and returned it to the San Jose 36.

It was the fifth time in little more than 16 minutes of game action that the Long Beach defense, which has now forced 23 turnovers in three games, had given the 49er offense the ball in San Jose territory.

The 49ers gained seven yards in their first two plays with the ball then Tommy Nathan, the all-America fullback from Eastern Arizona, who gained 117 yards Friday night, raced for a first down.

But Long Beach was guilty of holding and the ball was moved back to the San Jose 44. The 49ers, who drew 114 yards in penalties, ran a reverse next and were called for clipping.

That made it third-and-37, and made Nathan's longest run of the night — 23 yards — insignificant.

Gary Wynn came in for a squib punt on fourth down at the San Jose 40. The snap bounced to him and, after juggling the ball, he got off a survival kick which Mason fielded with all the Long Beach defenders already past him. He could have scored on a triecyle.

Long Beach collected its only TD — and only the second one the offense has produced this season — on a 69-yard, nine-play drive that Tom Brown concluded with a dive from the one.

The big play was Nathan's 31-yard halfback pass to Dan Jones at the San Jose three. Brown scored four plays later.

Long Beach had a chance to get even in the fourth period after San Jose punter Jeff Cunningham fumbled the snap and was downed on the 17 by Curtiss Wright.

But the Spartans held on their eight and then went the length of the field to score on Ploger's 32-yard field goal after being stopped inside the Long Beach one. Ploger kicked a 19-yard field goal, but a holding penalty made him kick again from the 22.

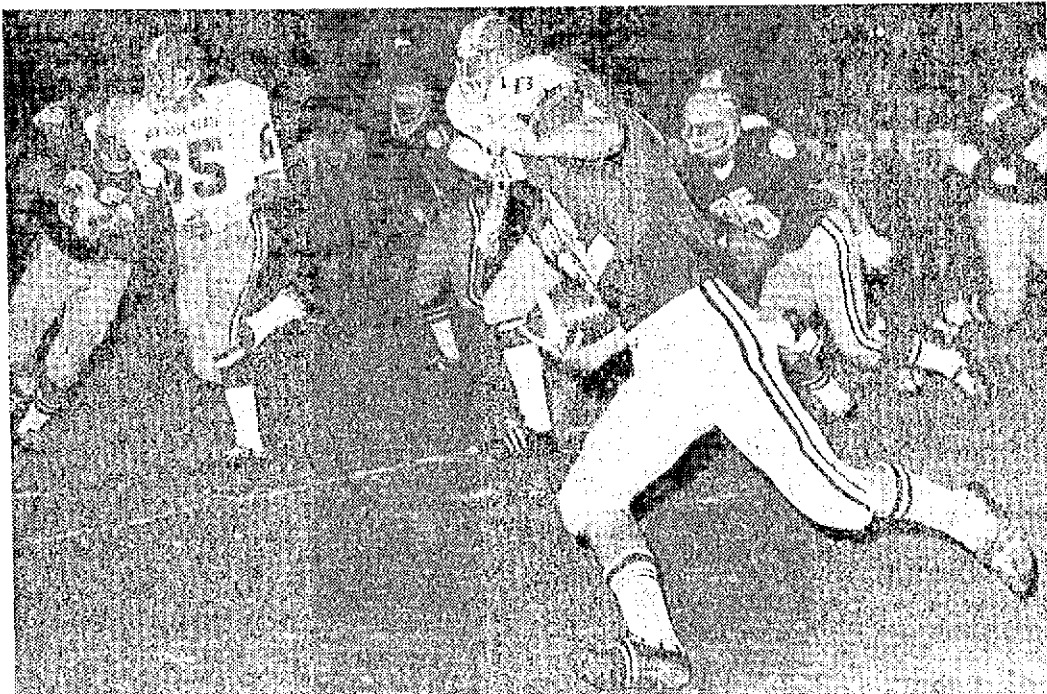

San Jose wrapped up its scoring on a 13-yard pass from Kimball to wide receiver Mike Hopkins with 15 seconds to play.

The win was the first ever over Stangeland for Spartan coach Darryl Rogers, a former Jordan High and Long Beach City College griddler.

San Jose scored in the first quarter on a 22-yard pass from Kimball to McBee and at the recess the 49ers were in a 7-0 hole because they were failing their passing test.

Kimball connected on seven of eight passes in the first 30 minutes for 60 yards and the one score and his only misfire was actually caught — by a 49er.

Tom Knudson grabbed that one after it had earned out of the hands of (Continued Page B-2, Col. 3)

Thanks, giving — with the Wishbone intact on a gleaming silver platter — was celebrated by Millikan High football fans Friday night.

The occasion for giving thanks was the Rams' stunning 21-20, season-opening victory over host El Rancho before more than 7,000 fans at the Dons' stadium in Pico Rivera — a victory achieved only when Millikan's defensive line stopped a penalties throughout the game that took some of the splendor away from the ground-gulping Wishbone offense, the defense held when it counted to preserve the win.

After Hector Gonzales blocked John Shanholzer's attempted field goal with four and a half minutes remaining, El Rancho thundered 77 yards in 12 plays for its last touchdown, a 25-yard toss from sophomore quarterback Tony Liettra to Joe Arton. But the Millikan front line — headed by David Gage, Kevin Leslie and Greg Gutting — bottled Liettra's PAT run up the middle inches short of the goal line.

The Dons' touchdown drive was aided tremendously by successive illegal procedure penalties against the Rams when there were too many men on the field.

Despite the close score, Millikan was in command — at least offensively — from the early stages of the game.

With Bob Boatright calling the signals, the Rams scored on their initial two possessions of the contest — marches of 68 and 80 yards, capped by short TD runs by Doug Dalton and Brad Liebeck.

Dalton got his second score — a 29-yard romp — early in the third quarter after Liebeck had thrown a halfback option pass 46 yards.

The victorious Wishbone accounted for a net offense of 320 yards.

Millikan scored 77 yards in 12 plays after the fumble was recovered by linebacker Rick Liddell, and fullback Woody Thompson scored the go-ahead touchdown.

Thompson scored three touchdowns as Miami rattled the pass defense of the Longhorns.

Six of the Texas fumbles, including another by Aboussie, proved disastrous. The final two fumbles, by quarterback Marty Atkins, came at the Miami 29 and 34-yard lines in the fourth quarter.

Thompson, a 218-pound junior who saw little action last season, scored twice from the one and once from the eight for all of Miami's scores.

His Texas counterpart, Roosevelt Leaks, provided virtually all the Longhorns' offense as he scored on touchdown runs of five and two yards.

Billy Schott kicked a 34-yard field goal for the other Texas score.

TEXAS FUMBLES 8 TIMES, LOSES 20-15

MIAMI (AP) — A fumble by sophomore halfback Joe Aboussie on a sure touchdown run, one of eight fumbles by Texas, proved to be the difference Friday night as lightly regarded Miami thrashed the Longhorns 20-15 in college football.

"He's running for the goal line and the ball pops out," said Texas coach Darrell Royal of the second-quarter play. "We end up losing by five. That might have made some difference."

Aboussie had taken the pitchout around right end at the Texas 46 and broken down the sidelines with no defenders near him. The ball fell out of his grasp at the Miami 30.

"There was a guy coming up on me," said Aboussie. "I was just trying to outrance him. All of a sudden the ball was gone. I don't know what happened."

Lakers fall to Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Portland Trail Blazers caught fire in the second half and realized a bidone goal, whipping the Lakers 105-88 in the second game of a NBA exhibition doubleheader here Friday night.

The Golden State Warriors beat the Seattle SuperSonics 119-83 in the opener to spoil Bill Russell's coaching debut.

Oddsmakers tab Bruins tonight by 3 TDs Who's angriest, UCLA or Iowa?

By GARY RAUSCH
Staff Writer

Words like "angry" and "hungry" have been banded about often this week as coaches Pepper Rodgers and Frank Lautner attempted to portray their football teams.

Oddsmakers have tabbed Rodgers' UCLA Bruins to be the angriest and hungriest when they meet Lautner's Iowa Hawkeyes in the Coliseum tonight at 7:30. The margin of difference is three touchdowns.

The odds may be a little steep considering combined the teams show only three scores after their season-opening embarrassments.

The Bruins offense crossed the goal line twice in a 40-13 thrashing at Nebraska and could dent the Cornhusker defense for only 239 yards running with its feared Wishbone attack.

Iowa's deepest penetration in a 31-7 ambush by Michigan ended with a fumble at the three-yard line. Its 1-Bone netted only 118 yards running and 115 passing.

Left cornerback Earl Douthitt, second-team all-Big 10 as a sophomore, accounted for the lone Hawkeye TD with a 47-yard interception return.

Lautner is hopeful tailbacks Mark Fetter and Royce Mix and fullbacks Phil Hayman and Jim Jensen can probe the UCLA defense as easily as Nebraska runners did in accumulating 305 yards. All are sophomores, running behind a veteran line.

UCLA's SECONDARY will be adequately tested by receivers Brian Rollins and Bill Schultz. Rollins, a former Kansas long jump champion, caught 29 of Iowa's 72 pass completions as a junior. Schultz, a freshman, is the son of Hawkeye basketball coach Dick Schultz.

A problem lies at quarterback where senior Kyle Skogman, soph Butch Caldwell and junior Bobby Ousley each started at least three games last season.

Skogman was felled with a knee injury in the fourth game, giving way to Ousley. Caldwell started the final four contests and was No. 1 in the spring.

Skogman gets the call against a Bruin defense with four new starters. Injuries find Mike Martinez replacing Greg Norfleet at nose guard and Rick Baska for Gene Settles at

James McAlister will be an Iowa defense composed of five sophs, five juniors and a single senior — end Dan Dickel, co-captain and 1972 MVP.

"After giving up 440 yards to Michigan, our boys want to prove they can stop a running team," says linebacker coach Steve Szabo. "We really expect to force UCLA to pass some."

If so, the Bruins would be playing into Iowa's strong suit. Led by Douthitt and safety Rick Penney, the Hawk secondary ranked sixth in the nation last fall.

"This is the best talent we've had in three years," says Lautner. "Our defense has the ability to be quick and that's how Nebraska beat

CERRITOS, LBCC TUSSLE TONIGHT

By JIM MANGAN
Staff Writer

Although the verbal skirmishing of the opposing coaches might lead an unwary observer to think otherwise, tonight's Cerritos-Long Beach City College neighborhood scrap on the Veterans Stadium turf figures pretty much even.

"The edge, if any, for the 7:30 contest goes to the Falcons on the basis of an opening 31-7 win over Chaffey."

But the Vikings, shaded 8-7 by Grossmont a week ago, get a psychological boost from their underdog role.

LBCC coach Gary Jacobsen paid tribute to the visitors' consistency and termed their win over Chaffey "an errorless game."

"We will have to improve in every category if we are going to stay in contention against Cerritos," he continued.

The Falcons' Ernie Johnson sized up the situation differently: "We played carelessly in our opener."

"We made a lot of blocking mistakes, and we collected more penalties than any time since I have been at this school."

Strangely, both Jacobsen and Johnson zeroed in on the same factor which might decide the winner — the kicking game.

Also looming large but harder to figure, especially between opponents who are so well acquainted, is that intangible quality: emotion.

Long Beach tossed away more than one chance to win in last year's 17-17 tie with Cerritos because of penalties, and Jacobsen has given the word to his troops: "Keep your cool."

For those interested in numbers, Long Beach holds the series edge, 8-5-1, but the last nine starts have been a standoff: four wins each and the tie.

Both squads have sophomore-oriented defensive units, and will have lots of freshmen playing when they have the ball.

The Falcons, a little more conservative, lean toward a running game.

The Vikings, with considerable confidence in their aerial game, like to think of the long one.

Cerritos benefited from seven Chaffey turnovers (three fumbles, three interceptions, and a blocked punt), but Long Beach doesn't figure to be so generous.

LBCC, discouraged early in the week with the loss of quarterback Jeff Kellogg, perked up a bit with the news that receiver Rick Gillies will be on hand.

Gillies, an all-Metro second-team pick in 1971 after an illustrious career at Lakeview, was not on campus last year and missed the Grossmont opener. He should beef up both the passing and the kicking game.

Jacobsen also hopes to get a stronger running attack going with the twosome of freshman Randy Woodard and sophomore Charlie Marino in a starting assignment.

Ga. Tech 3-TD underdog, but 'primed to win'

By LOEL SCHRADER
Staff Writer

ATLANTA — Georgia Tech fell ingloriously to defeat last week in its opening football game of the season with the USC of Dixie, South Carolina.

But Tech coach Bill Fulcher doesn't have his nose to the gasp as he prepares to face another USC, to-ranked Southern California, before an expected sellout crowd of 60,000 today at Grant Field.

Fulcher gathered his three-touchdown underdogs at midweek and gave them a verbal lathering.

"If there is a player on the squad who doesn't think we have a chance of winning Saturday, we don't want him dressed when we take the field to play Southern California," shouted the Tech coach.

Not one walked off the practice field, so it's presumed the Yellow Jackets will be primed and pumped for an attempt to end the Trojan string of unbeaten games at 18.

Somewhere amidst the shouting in Atlanta over the arrival of a super power, could be heard a faint voice of Trojan coach John McKay complaining: "Hey, we're not as good as everyone says we are."

McKay was particularly distressed about the Trojans' defensive tackle situation. Glenn Byrd went down with an ankle injury in USC's 17-0 win over Arkansas last week, and Mike Hancock sustained a neck injury on Thursday that will probably keep him out of action.

Offensive tackle Mike McGirr didn't put on pads for practice all week, forcing McKay to shift Steve Riley from weak-side tackle to the strong-side slot. Steve Knutson has moved in as weakside starter, backed up by sophomore Mike Cordell of Long Beach.

"We are in poor condition and I'm not sure we are ready to play consistent football," said McKay on Friday. "Our offense broke down several times last week and it hasn't looked any better in practice."

But McKay is counting on Anthony Davis, his 18-touchdown marvel of 1972, to accelerate against Georgia Tech.

"Anthony was dancing around looking for touchdowns against Arkansas," observed McKay. "But in the last quarter I thought he began to look like the Davis of last year."

McKay also is hoping for steadier performances from his young cornerbacks, Danny Reece and Marvin Cobb.

"Tech passes well, so our defensive backs must be ready," warned McKay.

Georgia Tech's quarterback, Jim Stevens, completed 13 of 26 attempts for 195 yards against South Carolina, but was intercepted four times.

Georgia Tech has excellent receivers in Jim Robinson, who caught 43 passes in 1972, Mark Fields and Jim Owings.

Temperatures are expected in the high 80s with high humidity. Maybe the conditions will resolve the problem of "big, fat players" McKay complained about after the Arkansas game.

Baseball briefs

CARDINALS — Recalled pitcher Mike Thompson from their Tulsa farm team of the American Assn.

PIRATES — Purchased pitcher Jim Fear from their Charleston farm club of the International League.

ATHLETICS — Received permission from the American League to add pinch-runner Allen Lewis to their roster for the coming league championship series.

Defense remains more of a question mark.

Notre Dame unveils '73 model against Wildcats

Combined News Services

Some college football buffs are insisting that today is the official start of the 1973 season. The reasoning is simple, if not sound — Notre Dame plays its first game.

The Irish, already ranked eighth in one poll despite the fact they've only played against each other in scrimmages, host old rival Northwestern.

Ara Parseghian, beginning his eighth year at South Bend, has a unique 11-game winning streak in the Irish-Wildcat series — seven as Notre Dame's coach and four while masterminding Northwestern.

To hear Ara talk, No. 12 might prove difficult. "We've lost starting guard Frank Pomarico for half the year and we've had only three days where we could hold two-a-day drills," means Parseghian.

"Besides," Ara grimaces, "they've already got a game under their belts." That was a 14-10 Wildcat win over Michigan State.

"We're the team at a disadvantage," counters new Northwestern coach Johnny Pont. "We're going in blind while they've had an opportunity to watch us."

The oddsmakers apparently prefer to believe Pont more than Parseghian because the Irish are 21-point favorites.

In other games of note today, 14th-ranked North Carolina State invades Nebraska; Michigan attempts to avenge its 1972 Rose Bowl loss as it entertains Stanford; Alabama visits Kentucky; Penn State tackles Navy; Tennessee meets Army; California hosts Illinois and Oregon State clashes with Southern Methodist; Ohio State and Oklahoma are idle.

Second-ranked Nebraska, rested for two weeks since its 40-13 thrashing of UCLA in its opener, will have quarterback Dave Humm available for North Carolina State but the Cornhuskers won't announce until gametime whether Hummer Steve Runtz, the architect of the Bruin rout, will start.

"They're not as big as UCLA but they have more quickness and will try and finesse you," says Husker coach Tom Osborne.

Bear Bryant, unbeaten, untied and unscored upon this year (Alabama buried Cal, 66-0 last week) returns to Lexington for the first time since he left the University of Kentucky 20 years ago. He fears a lynching party.

"When I left I could have been elected governor," Bryant says. "The day after I left I was hung in effigy and they've been after me ever since. They won't be thinking about our team, they'll be thinking about beating the old man."

Nonetheless, the Tide is a 24-point pick.

"We had no offense to speak of," says Stanford coach Jack Christiansen. He'd better locate some today at Ann Arbor or Michigan will certainly atone for its 13-12 upset loss in the '72 Rose Bowl.

George Welsh was Penn State assistant for 10 autumns before taking over at Navy this year. So guess who Navy plays today. Right, the Nittany Lions.

"I know their personnel and how good they are," Welsh says. But he and the Middies probably won't be able to do anything about it. Penn State is favored by 19.

Cal might and might not show up today in Strawberry Canyon to face Illinois after the 'Bama disaster. "We're over the embarrassment," claims Cal coach Mike White.

"Don't feel sorry for us."

How can anyone help it?

"Can you imagine that team throwing the ball 52 times in a game," observed one Pac-8 coach after Oregon State's Alvin White — the JC transfer from Orange Coast — put on an aerial show in last year's 18-9 loss to Auburn. "Dee Andros teams used to go a whole season without throwing that many."

Poly suffers loss before opening kickoff tonight

Poly High has suffered a setback even before the Jackrabbits take to the field tonight (8 o'clock) at L.A. State to open the 1973 season against Salesian of Los Angeles.

Junior fullback Michael Flippin is expected to be sidelined at least a month with a dislocated shoulder suffered in last week's Milk Bowl appearance against Wilson.

Another promising junior, Marc Seawright, should be able to fill the gap, but the move was one coach Troy Winslow is reluctant to make. "We had figured on Marc as a tight end besides starting at linebacker," he says. "We just don't have the depth to suffer injuries like that."

Salesian, 3-5-1 a year ago in the Del Rey League under second year coach Larry Bryan, returns 16 lettermen including all-league linebacker fullback Ed Gutierrez. Tonight's game is the first of three in as many weeks for Poly against Del Rey schools.

The Jackrabbits appear to have a promising passing attack again with newcomer Tony Jones at quarterback throwing to Roy Haggerty, Ronnie Hill and Wes Robinson.

YOUR HOROSCOPE by JEANE DIXON

Forecast for Sunday

Your birthday today: On this date, the autumnal equinox comes at 21 minutes past midnight, EDT. Those born in the first 21 minutes have a Virgo Sun Sign; those in the rest of the day are Librans. Today's natives are distinctly individualistic, prone to go it alone rather than endure close cooperation. This coming year finds them all evolving, encountering unaccustomed career obstacles and challenges. Later in the year, they emerge with fresh triumphs.

Aries (March 21-April 19): If you can spend this Sunday outdoors, do so. If you can't, then seek some symbolic excursion from your everyday routines. Be gentle and easy in your treatment of others.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): "Live and let live" is a fit motto for the day. Forebearance with the folly of younger people is appropriate. Plan improvements which insure the most comfortable surroundings.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Be bright and quick with your share of the Sunday customs of your neighborhood. Make the rounds; check up on recent developments; visit friends and relatives. Stay on the move.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): There is no such thing as making up for lost time in strenuous exercise or sports — do no more than you are in shape to do. This should be a pleasant day. Avoid shop talk.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): New acquaintances include some who may become important to your life. Shared amusements, intellectual pursuits stir interest, excitement, rivalry. Give a modest party.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Put your work of the past week out of your mind, give yourself a break. Find time for prayer and meditation by skipping social doings if you can't manage any other way.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): The fount of spirit should be flowing freely for you in the light of today's audience. Look about you, be thankful for what you are and what you have. Bring friends home.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Reapprochement with friends seems indicated for your main activity at present. Make peace wherever it's needed, even if it's only an agreement to let well enough be.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Study, research, preparations for coming tests of your knowledge and skills are natural during this phase. Public appearances are best kept to a minimum.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Present your nicest surface to the world; do a good job of listening as you participate in community affairs and traditions. Social contacts turn out to be worthwhile and interesting.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Seek harmony in personal relationships. Let your loved ones enjoy a change of scene, time to think for themselves. Seek all sorts of information and receive some answers.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Once over lightly, do more than you must. Visits exchanged are the normal order of the day, on a local basis. Evening is for sharing news with old confidants.

Chinese opera big on spectacle

By DAVID LEVINSON Staff Writer America's increasing interest in things Chinese has now brought a Chinese opera troupe to the Ahmanson Theater at the Los Angeles Music Center.

How much singing there is in the original, I don't know, but there is not a great deal in the excerpts presented by the National Chinese Opera Theater at the Ahmanson. There is a great deal of acrobatics and dancing and an unlimited amount of spectacle that is more colorful than anything else you are likely to see on an American stage.

A handsome brochure prepared for the company's first American tour costs $2. It's worth buying, and it would be a good idea to spend 10 or 15 minutes with it before the curtain goes up.

The brochure suggests that the musical accompaniment was westernized — or at least softened — for the tour. That is probably a mercy. The falsetto singing — no more stylized than that in European opera, but strange to western ears — is odd enough. If it were accompanied by odd instruments at great volume, the result might be a little hard on the average Puccini fan to take.

On the other hand, the first Chinese to hear a western symphony orchestra must have the experience unsettling; the harmonies must have seemed exotic, the instrumental sounds must have seemed strange, and the noise must have been overwhelming.

As a musical evening, Chinese opera is — well, inscrutable. As an evening of theater, it can be dazzling and poetic. The dazzle comes from the costumes, battle axes, banners and extraordinary precision of movement. The poetry comes from the subtlety of gesture and from some fascinating visual symbolism in which, for example, lithe spirits may tumble repeatedly over a flag waved to represent rising waters.

The musical accompaniment is often improvisational in tone. It cannot be improvised, however; it follows the voices too neatly for that. If the music is no match for Mozart of Alban Berg, however, the spectacle and the poetry make for exciting theater.

Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. today and Sunday and for 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

SOUTHLAND MOVIE GUIDE

BLUME IN LOVE — A witty comedy with George Segal as the philandering Blume who pursues ex-wife Susan Anspach. She finds romance with Kris Kristofferson. With Shelley Winters. (R)

THE GODFATHER — Marlon Brando stars as Don Vito Corleone, the Godfather, in this smashingly successful adaptation of Mario Puzzo's best-selling novel of an underworld family. (R)

LADY KUNG FU — Kung Fu violence with Angela Mao as a young lady with lethal hands and feet. (R)

THE NEW CENTURIONS — Detective sergeant and novelist Joseph Wambaugh's realistic drama of the life of uniformed policemen in East Los Angeles. A fine performance by George C. Scott. (R)

HARRY IN YOUR POCKET — A tale of pickpockets with expert light-fingered crook James Coburn leading a crew of thieves that includes Michael Sarrazin, Trish Van Devere and Walter Pidgeon. (PG)

THE SLAMS — Action drama. Convict Jim Brown escapes from prison after keeping secret the location of his $1 million loot hideaway. (R)

DILLINGER — The Depression era is recreated with Warren Oates in a fine performance as bank holdup man John Dillinger. Some senseless violence and a comic strip portrayal of FBI agent Melvin Purvis. With Ben Johnson, and Cloris Leachman as the Lady in Red. (R)

LAST TANGO IN PARIS — Marlon Brando and beautiful, young Maria Schneider in Bernardo Bertolucci's introspective and often tedious tale of a sexual relationship. (R)

THE LAST DAY OF THE JACKAL — A suspenseful filming of Frederick Forsyth's best-selling novel about a professional assassin whose target is Gen. De Gaulle. With Edward Fox, Michael Lonsdale and Delphine Seyrig. (PG)

THE MACKINTOSH MAN — An espionage adventure that includes a prison break, a high-speed chase and a final shoot-out. With Paul Newman, Dominique Sanda and James Mason. (PG)

THE SOUND OF MUSIC — A musical delight starring Julie Andrews in the story of the Austrian Trapp family singers at the outbreak of World War II. (G)

HEAVY TRAFFIC — A mixture of animation and photography in an angry, smirking and graffiti-like juvenile tale about a city young. By Ralph Bakshi who created "Fritz the Cat." (X)

PAPER MOON — Peter Bogdanovich's comedy production about a down-at-the-heels con artist and a little girl who beats him at his own game. Stars Ryan O'Neal and his 9-year-old daughter, Tatum. (PG)

40 CARATS — A lively romantic comedy with Liv Ullmann as a fortyish Manhattan divorcee involved with much too young Edward Albert. With Gene Kelley, Binnie Barnes and Nancy Walker. (PG)

Tennis observations

By BOB MARTIN
TV-Radio Editor

Like millions of others around the globe, I watched the televised tennis "titanic" Thursday evening. I wouldn't have missed it for anything. Why, I even turned down an invitation to attend the taping of Frank Sinatra's first TV show in years and a party afterward at Chasen's to stay home and witness the battle of Billie and Bobby.

As a long-time follower and reporter of tennis, I of course have some opinions about the match and its television coverage. Here are some observations:

Bobby Riggs looked like the 55-year-old man he is—and not a very athletic one, at that.

Billie Jean King looked like a superb woman athlete, which she is. Seldom has her game seemed sharper.

If either of them cracked under the pressure, it was the great hustler and "psych" artist Riggs.

The match made it more evident than before that Margaret Court "choked" throughout her battle with Bobby last Mother's Day. She is a much better player normally than she was that day, and Bobby is not nearly as good as she made him appear to be.

BOBBY'S EASY victory over Mrs. Court (he even tried to throw her some games) may have given him the wrong impression of the caliber of women's tennis and made him regard Billie Jean too lightly. He spent too much time promoting the event and trying to live up to his image as a 55-year-old "sex symbol" and not enough time training for the match.

Persons who predicted Billie Jean would win shouldn't gloat too much. Probably 99 per cent of them also predicted Margaret would beat Bobby.

THE KINGS-RIGGS MATCH seemed even more one-sided than the 6-

KABC - 790	XFI - 640	KGIL - 1260	KWPC - 710	KRLA - 1110
KALI - 1430	KFOX - 1280	KCPB - 900	KNX - 1070	KTYM - 1460
KBIG - 740	KFWB - 980	KMI - 930	KOGO - 600	KWIZ - 1480
KROO - 1500	KGBS - 1020	KKAR - 1720	KPOL - 1540	KWKK - 1300
KDAY - 1580	KGER - 1390	KKEY - 870	KREL - 1370	KWOW - 1600
KKEY - 1190	KGFI - 1230	KCAC - 570	KIIS - 1150	XPRS - 1090
KPAC - 1330			XTRA - 690

4, 6-3, 6-3 score would indicate. But it wasn't nearly as one-sided as the Riggs-Court contest. And don't forget that Mrs. Court has won a lot more tournaments and a lot more money in women's tennis this year than Mrs. King has.

B. J. Got her way regarding the length of the match and the court surface. The latter may have been a big factor in the way the match turned out. Riggs would have looked better on a slower court.

I DO NOT THINK it was right for Billie and husband Larry King to demand that Jack Kramer be dumped as commentator. After all, Billie's protegee and shadow, Rosie Casals, was to share the announcing job with Kramer and Howard Cosell.

Miss Casals was more than a little bit obnoxious in displaying her bitterness toward Riggs, especially in the early part of the match, before B. J. took command. She made Cosell seem like a gentleman, which isn't easy.

Riggs has made a lot of comments about women, but who takes him seriously? His spouting off made the "match of all time" possible. Does anyone really think he hates women?

On the other hand, Rosemary came across as being bitter toward men.

When the camera focused on a "I Love Billie" button and Cosell noted that it was a woman who was wearing it, Rosie remarked: "Anything goes these days." (No comment on that.)

COSELL WAS not his usual authoritative self. He apparently knows too little about tennis to make any pertinent comments.

Eugene Scott, who was brought in to take the ousted Kramer's place, was not as good as Jack would have been.

Howie knows so little about the game and the contestants that he expressed surprise a few times that the comedy had not yet begun on the court. Apparently he figures Bobby would start holding a suitcase in one hand or slip on a dress or place chairs on Billie's side of the net.

It would have been nice if ABC had stuck around long enough to bring us post-match interviews with the contestants.

Riggs (and Scott) were gracious in defeat. Would Rosemary have been?

Cholera called no bar to travel

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

The risk of an American tourist contracting cholera while in an infected area is low and need not cause any change in travel plans, Dr. I. D. Litwack, Long Beach health officer, said Friday.

Dr. Litwack said the Long Beach Department of Public Health has been receiving many calls about current travel regulations dealing with cholera.

The latest federal regulations do not require cholera vaccination for anyone leaving or arriving in the United States, Litwack announced.

However, normal precautions are urged to prevent infection, the health officer said. These include eating only well-cooked foods, using water that has been boiled or chlorinated, avoiding fresh, uncooked vegetables and peeled fruit.

Handwashing with soap before eating is extremely important, he added.

A DEGREE of protection may be afforded by obtaining cholera vaccine in two doses, given one week to one month apart.

Although the United States does not require a record of cholera vaccination for travelers, other countries may require this protection for persons arriving from infected countries.

A single dose of vaccine may be effective for six months.

Travelers to Italy, Africa, India, Indonesia, the Philippines and Southeast Asia should check their itineraries and determine which countries require cholera shots, the health officer recommended. All of these areas are currently experiencing cholera according to the World Health Organization.

California and the rest of the nation are at low risk from cholera because the disease spreads most readily in grossly insanitary environments. Most communities in this country have modern sanitary conditions and safe water supplies.

Switchboard upgrading due

By DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

Modernization of the Long Beach Water Department's telephone system, with a switchboard to be established in the administration board lobby to provide receptionist service has been authorized by the Board of Water Commissioners.

When the modernization was proposed last month, it called for an agreement with General Telephone Co. to consolidate and improve the existing system.

Thursday's action by the board, however, directed the general manager of the Water Department to prepare plans to allow for competitive bidding on the project.

Commissioners were told that an engineering study sought proposals from General Telephone and three private communications companies.

and found that the three communications companies "are the most economical and provide equal or better service" than General Telephone.

The study indicated that the estimated cost of furnishing and installing an automatic cordless switchboard in the Brennan S. Thomas Administration Building at 1800 E. Wardlow Road, and consolidating in it the present switchboards at the service plant and treatment plant, would be $48,000.

With the switchboard in the building lobby said General Manager Clyde N. Moore, the operator could serve as a receptionist for the Water Department. Consolidation of the other boards would reduce personnel requirements for the system, Moore said.

Sabena gets 1st DC10 jetliner

By HERB SHANNON
Aerospace Editor

Sabena Belgian World Airlines accepted its first McDonnell Douglas DC10 jetliner at ceremonies Friday on the Douglas Aircraft Co. flight ramp at Long Beach Airport.

The airline simultaneously became the first European carrier with the convertible passenger-freighter version of the wide-cabin luxury trijet.

MARCEL GOOSSENS, Sabena managing director, took title to the white and blue jumbo jet from Charles M. Forsyth, vice president-marketing for Douglas.

Others participating in the ceremony included Pierre Aubray, Sabena vice president-technical, Yvan Goossens, Sabena vice president-public relations, Paul Dengis, chief of engineering projects for the airline, and two Sabena senior pilots, Capt. M. Van der Veken and Capt. P. Leva.

The DC10 left Long Beach late Friday and was scheduled to arrive in Brussels today after a non-stop flight of approximately 5,575 miles.

Sabena's new plane is an intercontinental range Series 30CF model. The airline will begin service in November with an interior arrangement providing 187 first class and coach seats in aft sections of the cabin, with space for four cargo pallets in the forward cabin.

The DC10 can carry five more cargo pallets in a lower deck forward freight compartment, while an aft cargo hold provides ample space for passenger baggage.

Sabena has a second DC10CF on order for delivery in June, 1974.

Fox named to board of proposed airport

Francis T. Fox, former general manager of the Los Angeles Department of Airports, was elected Friday to the board of directors of the Chino Hills Airport Complex, Inc.

The organization is a non-profit corporation seeking to build an "airport in a park" on the line between Orange and San Bernardino counties.

"The FAA gave air space clearance for this site a year ago," Fox said, "and it is expected that the airport will commence operation about 1978."

Fox is currently a consultant to Howard Hughes Summa Corporation.

The almost deserted concrete path through Lincoln Park leads to a monument of yesterday—the 65-year-old, soon-to-be-demolished Long Beach Main Library. The future holds a new, two-story main library which will be constructed at the northwest corner of Ocean Boulevard and Pacific Avenue as part of the Long Beach-Los Angeles County Civic Center complex.

City to sell oil it once planned to use for gas

By DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

The 1,200 barrels of crude oil per day from which City Manager John Mansell once threatened to "make out own gasoline" if no oil company would supply the City of Long Beach will be recommended Tuesday for sale to the highest bidder.

Mansell will advise the City Council to sell the crude oil to Trans World Oil Corp. of Santa Monica, which last June 13 offered a high bid of 86 cents per barrel above the posted price.

THE 1,200 barrels of oil daily comes to the city from its equity interest in the Townlot Area of the Long Beach Unit, Wilmington Oil Field. It currently is being sold to Atlantic Richfield Co. at the posted price per barrel.

Because other sales of crude oil had brought bids above the posted price, the city decided last fall to notify Atlantic Richfield that, under terms of the agreement, it was giving a one-year notice of termination of the contract. The sales agreement with Atlantic Richfield will expire Nov. 30.

PRIOR to the receipt of bids on the 1,200 barrels of crude, however, the city had encountered a reluctance of oil companies to bid on the city's

Unlimited bus ride passes go on sale

Calculated public transportation will be available in October to Long Beach area residents with a Southern California Rapid Transit District monthly pass.

Eliminating the need for ready cash, the RTD operates on the exact fare plan, the passes are available for one-zone riding at $12, two-zone, $15.50, three-zone, $19, four-zone, $22.50, and five-zone $26.

The passes, including special senior citizen passes will be offered beginning Tuesday.

Single zone old peoples' monthly passes will sell for $9.

The time fare for old people is effective weekdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to midnight, as well as all day on weekends and holidays.

To be eligible for the reduced fare, seniors, men 65, women 62, must present their senior citizens identification card or Medicare card to the driver of the bus.

Applications for identification cards are available from the Los Angeles County Department of Senior Citizens Affairs, 601 S. Kingsley Dr., Los Angeles, 90005, or at local senior clubs and centers.

The monthly passes may be purchased at the new RTD station located at 202 E. Ocean Blvd. in the Breaker's Hotel Building.

Stolen pesticide machine dangerous

A nitrogen-pressurized pesticide machine, which could "explode like a bomb" if opened incorrectly, was stolen from a pest control company truck in Long Beach, police said Friday.

Lt. Darrel Goldsmith, who issued a warning to citizens about the device, said he was afraid the 2-foot long cylinder might be dumped in a trash can or vacant lot where children playing or a curious passerby could tamper with it.

The device, known as a "High-Fog" pesticide machine, weighs about 20 pounds and contains a chemical that can be fatal if swallowed. Don Church, supervisor for Barden's Exterminating Company, 2633 Atlantic Ave., said the chemical is sprayed by 200 pounds of nitrogen pressure.

The nitrogen, which is sealed in a bolt-tightened cylinder, is "highly explosive," said Church. If the bolts are incorrectly removed, the machine will "go up like a bomb," he added.

Church said the device was stolen between 4:30 p.m. Monday and 2 p.m. Tuesday while the company truck was parked at the home of Lorie Valera, 5461 Paramount Blvd.

Police said the machine, which is valued at $250, was in a pad-locked storage cabinet that was secured to the bed of the truck.

Support for aged, blind L.B. seen worst hit if aid fails

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

State Sen. Mervyn Dymally, D-Los Angeles, said Friday Long Beach "will be the hardest hit of any section of the state" if California fails to come up with a plan to provide supplemental aid to aged, blind and disabled welfare recipients by Jan. 1.

The federal government takes over administration of the program on that date and, without a state supplement, grants will drop automatically from $212 a month to $130 a month.

LEGISLATION to increase the total monthly grant to $230 passed the Assembly in the recent legislative session but failed by two votes in the Senate. Republicans generally opposed the bill in deference to a proposal by Gov. Reagan to increase allowances to $221.

"Nobody won that game," said Dymally at a luncheon meeting of the Third Friday Forum in Lakewood Country Club. "But the needy and the taxpayers may be the biggest losers. As things now stand, the governor intends to implement his program by regulation without statutory authority. The attorney general says he can do it, many other state and federal authorities say he cannot."

Dymally said the issue is certain to be tested in the courts and said welfare groups intend to file suits within the next few days, challenging the statute, the governor has yet to formulate a plan for California. The new program goes into effect in California on Jan. 1 whether the state has a program or not," Dymally said.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said Dymally, "needs a long lead time to design regulations affecting half a million people in California."

Sen. Dymally, an all-but-announced candidate for lieutenant governor in 1974, called failure to deal with the welfare situation, "the major failure of the legislature." He noted pointedly that Sen. Joseph M. Kennick, D-Long Beach, voted for the plan and Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, voted against it.

DYMALLY told Forum members he was making his first announcement of his opposition to a campaign reform initiative being circulated by Common Cause and Democratic Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr.

The initiative, he said, should be used sparingly and only if the Legislature has failed to act, otherwise the initiative "subverts the legislative process."

"The Legislature has responded in a most responsive manner in the area of election reform," he said, noting measures passed in the fields of full disclosure of campaign contributions, including a Franchise Tax Board audit, conflicts of interest and a lobby control act.

While the attorney general's opinion supports the governor on aid to the aged and blind, it does not support him with regard to aid for the totally disabled. And for all his talk about implementing the new federal program by regulation rather than

Coast panel in bind over Malibu permits

By JOHN SHEEHAN
Staff Writer

Coastal commissioners Monday could be damned if they do and damned if they don't.

The South Coast Zone Regional Conservation Commission will have to decide whether to grant construction permits on two pieces of Malibu property that have so far earned the owner five years in jail.

Though commission staff members Friday said privately there seems little chance the panel will approve permits filed Aug. 10 by Edward Higgins, even unanimous approval of the development probably would not affect a Superior Court order issued Thursday ordering Higgins to spend five days in county jail beginning Tuesday.

THE ORDER by Judge Campbell Lucas cited Higgins for contempt of court in violation of the court's order to halt development of the homes and return the homes to the condition in which they were when the temporary restraining order was issued.

The order was issued under provisions of the Coastal Zone Conservation Act, passed last Nov. 7 as Proposition 20. The act gives six regional and one state commission, composed of citizens, scientists and public officials, power to regulate all development of land within 1,000 yards of California's coastline.

Higgins would be the first person sent to jail for violating the controversial law and Southern coastal commissioners could come under even more fire from developers, legislators, lobbyists and property owners if they refuse Higgins' permits.

But if they grant them, commissioners will not escape the mounting wrath of conservationists whose

Command changes for Amphibious Squadron 7

Capt. J. M. Davis Friday relieved Capt. E. C. Maupin as commander of the Long Beach-based Amphibious Squadron 7.

The change of command ceremonies were held aboard the squadron's flagship USS Juneau at the Naval Station's Pier 9.

Maupin's new assignment will be with Pacific Military Sealift Command headquarters in Oakland.

Davis reports to Long Beach from duty on the staff of the commander, Naval Forces Europe, London.

Other vessels in the nine-ship squadron are the Okinawa, St. Louis, Point Defiance, Alamo, Fort Fisher, Cayuga, Barbours County and Bristol County.

Municipals for some

By DON CAMPBELL

The wind blows softly through the trees at the edge of the still-unpolluted brook, the air crackles with freshness and, far off in the distance, a herd of cows moo plaintively—or whatever it is that cows do, vocal-wise.

The pastoral life is a great one, but it can have some minor disadvantages, too.

Q: I WOULD like to have some advice on how to buy and sell stocks and get a broker. I would like some very good advice. If you can suggest a broker for me, please do. I'm 12 years old and have $100 to spend. Your friend, Thomas B.

A: Your best bet on finding out how to buy and sell stocks, Tom, is via a good book on the subject. I'd recommend Louis Engel's "How to Buy Stocks," which is not only very informative, but extremely readable.

If you can't get it at the library, I'd suggest that you write directly to the publisher (it's a paperback, incidentally): Bantam Books, Inc., Dept. EM, 666 5th Ave., New York, N.Y., 10009. It sells for $1.25 plus 25 cents for postage.

On the business of finding you a broker, Tom, we've got problems. I've looked for your home town on the map and have come up with nothing so I have no idea how far you may be from the nearest town that might support a brokerage office.

If you're within easy commuting distance then it's no sweat—just have your dad take you into town and begin calling stock brokers (listed in the Yellow Pages of the phone directory) until you find one that will handle a $100 account.

If this isn't practical then a no-load mutual fund is your best bet. (You buy a share in the fund and then it, in turn, takes your $100, pools it with the money from a lot of other small investors, and then invests it in a wide range of stocks.)

I'm sending you a list of the addresses of a number of representative, no-load funds. The term "no-load" simply means that the fund won't charge you a commission which would, otherwise, cost you about $8.50 of your $100.

I suggest that you write three or four of them and compare their performance over the past 10 years. They all have a minimum first-time investment and, in most cases, this is about $50 or $100.

I question this. At what point does it pay to purchase municipals?

A: Your trust officer is right. In fact, you have to have an annual income of about $32,000 to $36,000 before it really pays to go the municipals route. The government paper he suggests is a good bet for you, but so would top-grade ("A" rated, or better) corporate bonds with yields of 7 1/2 per cent or slightly more.

Q: I AM single, retired and 73 years of age. I am considering making a change in my investments and the trust officer at our local bank suggests U.S. Treasury notes and bonds of government agencies any of which would produce an income of 6 1/2 per cent or seven per cent a year.

I asked if top-quality municipal bonds wouldn't be better since they would be tax free. The man said there is no benefit in the purchase of municipals unless the adjusted gross income is in, or above, the 25 per cent bracket.
